Pressure Grows For Voluntary A-Test Moratorium...

RUSK IN AFFABLE MOOD

Permanent Ban Later Suggested At Geneva

...Gromyko Has 3-Hour Dinner With U.S. Diplomat

Geneva (AP) — A call arose at the disarmament conference Tuesday for a new voluntary suspension of nuclear weapons tests until a permanent ban is achieved.

The chiefs of the United States and Soviet delegations then met Tuesday night for another two-power look at the problem and a review of the tense Berlin situation.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko conferred for the second time in two days at a 3-hour dinner at the Soviet villa.

Rusk called the talks a "pleasant and businesslike discussion," told newsmen no new proposals on Berlin had come up and shook his head to say no when asked if any papers had changed hands.

The two men agreed to hold further private talks. Gromyko waved goodby as Rusk drove off.

Their dinner meeting followed a day of growing sentiment within the disarmament conference for a renewal of the voluntary moratorium Russia broke last year to launch a new series of tests.

Sweden and India, two of the 8 middle group nations at the conference, voiced the call for a renewed halt to all testing.

At the same time the British foreign secretary, Lord Home, declared his government is willing to cut the enforcement machinery to an "absolute minimum" in order to reach a reasonable compromise on a test ban treaty.

The two developments indicated the pressure building up against the United States in two directions — to bobtail its demands for control machinery, and to put off its atmospheric tests in late April. President Kennedy has declared the tests will go ahead unless Soviet Russia accepts a policed test ban by then.

From the point of view of the United States, a new uncontrolled moratorium would have a grave disadvantage.

No Guarantee

There would be no guarantee that such a suspension of tests would lead to a full treaty with international enforcement provisions.

For 3 years the United States and Britain negotiated with the Russians at Geneva only to have the Soviet government steal a march on the West by conducting a massive series of tests last fall.

Swedish Foreign Minister Osten Unden told the 17-nation conference that the 3 nuclear powers should accept a provisional treaty if they could not fashion a full agreement now. Conference sources said Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon backed this suggestion.

Hoping to spike this "block-the-tests" campaign, Dean Rusk issued a statement insisting on the need to get international enforcement of a test ban treaty. He said:

"The remaining issue to be settled if there is to be a nuclear test ban treaty halting all nuclear weapons testing is the ability to obtain the necessary amount of objective international scientific information and inspection.

"Such information and inspection would place a burden on no one, interfere with no one and involve no espionage. What it would do would remove suspicion and provide confidence that agreements not to test are being adequately maintained."

Geneva Talks May Be Long

By WOODY HOWE

A U.S. disarmament specialist in Lincoln Tuesday warned that the current negotiations in Geneva might develop into a lengthy conference — measured perhaps in years.

The specialist, Jerome H. Spingarn, said the U.S. has moved families of the negotiation team to Switzerland and is willing to talk "just as long as necessary" to extract arms agreements with Russia.

Despite reports of imminent collapse of the 18-nation conference or rifts between U.S. and British negotiating teams, he said, the conference will continue.

Much Too Early

The first few weeks of the conference are much too early to write it off as a failure, Spingarn cautioned. This is true despite the fact that so far the West has seen nothing to indicate Russia's resistance to inspection is cracking.

"This conference may very well produce results," he said.

But even if it should collapse in failure, the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, for whom Spingarn works, could not be considered a failure, he suggested.

The agency would be a failure, however, if there were no beginnings of a movement toward arms control in "4 or 5 years," the Washington international law expert said.

He was the guest of the Lincoln United Church Women, who staged an all-day conference on disarmament and the United Nations.

The morning and afternoon sessions, at St. Paul Methodist Church, attracted about 300 persons. Much of the day was spent in small discussion groups, led by University of Nebraska faculty members, Nebraska clergymen and private citizens.

Spingarn said he is hopeful Russia will accept the West's present inspection proposal. He said a great effort had been made to see that this proposal did not abuse inspection privileges and that inspection trips were kept to an absolute minimum.

The 125-man staff of the 6-month old Control and Disarmament Agency, Spingarn said, is committed to a peace race. Its research is what is behind the U.S. negotiation team now at Geneva.

"The best ideas are not going to come from our own staff, but from the country at large," he said, proceeding to explain how the services of the best minds outside government were given special emphasis.

During afternoon discussion periods, there was lack of unanimity among the experts on a few points. Among them was the question of atmospheric testing.

Redistricting Vote Slated

The school redistricting proposal for southern Lancaster County will go to the voters April 24, Jerome Warner of Waverly, chairmar of the Lancaster County School Reorganization Committee, announced Tuesday.

Warner's announcement followed action taken Monday at a special meeting of the State Committee on School Reorganization.

The state committee approved the original redistricting plan proposed for southern Lancaster County and recommended against modifications made by Otoe and Gage counties' representatives on the Tri-County Committee.

Warner said the state committee's recommendations would be reviewed by the Tri-County Committee and voted upon by its entire 9 members.

Worker Falls 9 Feet, Dies

A freight car helper at the Burlington Railroad's Havelock shops, Vernon Haas, died en route to St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday after he fell from a 9-foot scaffold.

An autopsy showed that Haas, 42, of 2128 Vine, died because of the fall. He was pronounced dead at the hospital by Dr. R. C. Toren, company physician for the Havelock shops.

Acting Coroner Glenn Allen said late Tuesday that Dr. E. D. Zeman, pathologist at St. Elizabeth who performed the autopsy, told him Haas suffered a broken pelvis, internal injuries, and a broken left arm in the fall.

The doctor further said, Deputy Sheriff Allen added, that the Burlington worker must have hit something hard in his plunge. Allen said he intends to examine the scene again Wednesday morning.

Earlier Tuesday, B. H. Barrett, general shop superintendent, said Haas was sandblasting a steel boxcar when he apparently blacked out and fell into loose sand.

Woman Injured

Grace Thorne, 72, of 2640 Lake, Apt. A, was treated for a bruised wrist at Lincoln General Hospital Tuesday after she was injured in a two-car accident at Normal and South. Police said her car was in collision with one driven by Robert A. Nordquist, 19, of 3440 Hillside.

K St. Viaduct Hearing Slated

City, County, Chamber Are Seeking Placement On State-Federal Grid

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln's request for placement of the proposed K Street Viaduct on the state-federal highway system will be aired Monday before the State Highway Commission.

The Chamber of Commerce streets and highway committee Tuesday voted to appear along with city and county officials in support of the proposed move.

Vic Anderson, subcommittee chairman, said the K Street Viaduct is part of the downtown traffic and Interstate access plan approved by the State Highway Department and Federal Bureau of Roads.

If placed on the federal system, the proposed viaduct would be eligible for 90% federal funds and the proposed West O (U.S. Hwy. 6) by-pass route to U.S. Hwy. 77 (South 9th and 10th at K) would be eligible for 50-50 state and federal financing.

City Engineer Carl Fisher said supporting documents for the presentation are being prepared by his department. They will urge that the viaduct will provide a direct access route from the west to the State Capitol and other state institutions, divert 30% of the traffic from overloaded O Street viaduct, and is needed to make the Interstate 180 access route to downtown Lincoln work.

The committee will also urge the City Council to budget a special sum to speed up engineering of the Northeast Diagonal from 27th to 48th.

Purpose would be to gain "lead time or a ready-to-go project if federal emergency funds for public works should become available."

Fisher said the city has "no backlog of engineered projects."

Because of the limited engineering staff and funds, Fisher said the city is "just keeping abreast of projects planned and funded."

Earlier, County Engineer Hugh Dillon reported that the county is stretching its lead time on engineered road and bridge projects to two years.

"If the funds for more than one year's program should become available, we would be ready to go," he explained.

Other meeting highlights:

—favoring vote that downtown Lincoln should be included in the proposed "Lincoln business loop" using the Hwy. 77 interchange, the Cornhusker Hwy. and by-pass to West O and back on the Interstate Hwy.

—report that construction work opening 84th street south from U.S. Hwy. 66 could begin June 1 provided right-of-way negotiations are completed as anticipated.

—report that a May 7 contract letting is anticipated on some widening and resufacing work on Cornhusker Hwy. between 11th and 17th.

—report that the North 10th viaduct will be closed for resurfacing during part of the summer, but open by Aug. 15.

—agreement to continue efforts to secure a second Interstate access route into Lincoln.

Temps Around Forty Expected

Nebraska temperatures will be around 40 Wednesday, with decreasing cloudiness in the eastern and central portions.

Panhandle skies will be partly cloudy.

Power Leaders Told -- 'Get Going Or Else'

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Sen. Don Thompson Tuesday laid it on the line to members of the Nebraska Public Power Committee.

The McCook legislator warned power leaders that harsh alternatives face them in the 1963 Legislature if they do not sufficiently progress toward agreement in the coming months.

Among them:

—a regulatory commission or authority.

—legislation providing that all legal services for public power agencies come through the attorney general's office.

Both proposals are now under consideration by some members of the Legislature, Thompson told NPPC members at their regular monthly meeting.

Thompson, speaker of the 1961 Legislature, is chairman of the Legislative Council's public power study committee.

May Be Preview

His words may well have served as a preview to Wednesday's scheduled meeting of the legislative committee to which a number of NPPC members have been invited.

"The eyes of Nebraska are upon you," Thompson told NPPC.

"You are making some progress — but if you cannot solve these problems, I can see many other alternatives, and I don't like them."

Thompson suggested that many public power woes might have been settled long ago "if power people had gone to the Legislature with them instead of the courts."

In addition, the senator said, the Legislature could have provided "statutory direction for the courts."

Two other senators attended the NPPC meeting.

Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island said he was "much enthused by your progress." Sen. Peter Clausen of Leigh termed himself "optimistic."

In its business session, NPPC unanimously approved a generating costs subcommittee report dealing with the Nebraska Public Power System and Omaha Public Power District in the eastern two-thirds of the state.

The study had been requested by Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City.

The retail service area subcommittee reported progress in meetings at Scottsbluff and Beatrice to arrange voluntary service area agreements.

Next subcommittee conference will be held at Nebraska City Friday, according to Ralph Foreman of Columbus, manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative, Inc.

Nebraskans Die In New Mexico

Grants, N. M., (AP) — A car rammed into the back of a parked semi-truck and trailer near here Tuesday night killing a Nebraska couple.

State police identified the couple as Lewis Tilbury, 73, of Rt. 2; Axtell, Neb., and his wife, Ellen, 64.

The truck was parked off the pavement on the shoulder of U.S. 66 about 7 miles east of here. It was unattended when the accident occurred.

Moslems Slain By Mortars

...IN ALGIERS

Algiers (AP)— Five mortar shells smashed into Moslem crowds at the foot of the ancient Casbah of Algiers Tuesday killing 4 persons and wounding 67.

It climaxed a day of terror that saw Moslems in cities, towns and villages clash with Europeans and French soldiers.

The mortar attack, one of the bloodiest in Algiers' bloodstained history, was blamed on the Secret Army of right-wing Europeans trying to wreck the precarious French-Moslem cease-fire proclaimed Monday after more than 7 years of Algerian nationalist rebellion.

200 Killed Or Hurt

More than 200 persons have been killed or wounded since the cease-fire. Among scores of demonstrations and shootings in smaller places, the most serious was at St. Denis Du Sig where 54 persons were killed in two days of sporadic clashes between Moslem auxiliary soldiers in French service and Moslem crowds.

Alarming reports from many parts of the countryside told of Moslem crowds marching on European villages with green and white nationalist flags and shouting "freedom for Algeria." In many instances tense troops fired on the rioting Moslems.

The demonstrations and bloodshed came as President Charles de Gaulle informed a special session of parliament in Paris that he will submit the Algerian agreement to a national referendum on April 8. The referendum among the French will be separate from that in Algeria by which the Algerians probably will choose independence.

Frondizi, Military To Form Coalition

...WILL FIGHT PERONISM

Buenos Aires (AP) — Embattled President Arturo Frondizi and Argentina's military chiefs agreed early Wednesday to form a coalition cabinet—half civilian and half military—to combat the threat of resurgent Peronism.

A government communique said all present cabinet ministers and secretaries of the armed forces had resigned to make way for the reshuffle.

A government communique said the 8 cabinet members heeading the civilian ministries had resigned. Frondizi will name 4 ministers to the new cabinet and the military will name 4.

Not Affected

The 3 cabinet secretaries of the armed forces apparently were not affected by the reshuffle.

Frondizi and the chiefs of the Army, Navy and Air Force also agreed that:

1. All political activity by followers of former dictator Juan D. Peron will be outlawed once again. The Peronists were allowed to run under their own banner in congressional and provincial elections last Sunday after more than 6 years in the dog house, and they scored landslide victories in 10 provinces.

2. The government will eliminate the closed shop and enact a right-to-work law. This apparently is aimed at cutting the power of the giant confederation of labor.

No 'Frigerismo'

3. Purge of the executive branch and other areas of the government of "Frigerismo" —the influence of Rogelio Frigerio, millionaire businessman and close adviser of Frondizi.

Although peace seemed established finally between Frondizi and the military, the reaction of the millions who voted Peronist on Sunday remained to be determined.

Gaunt and weary, but stubborn as always in the face of impending disaster, Frondizi was pictured as "breaking through" the worst challenge to his presidency since he took office in May 1958.

He persisted in the face of the military's apparent determination to force him out and seize control.

Predicted

People following minute-to-minute developments of the post-election crisis had predicted during the day that Frondizi finally would be brought down and military rule would follow.

But after hours of secret maneuvering in Frondizi's executive offices and the nearby war ministry, Fron-dizi aides who had looked grim during the day displayed smiles. One said "things have now taken a better turn. We are doing well."

However, even his friends conceded the tissue-thin fragility of their favorable outlook and admitted the president remained in danger of being ousted at any moment.

Labor Readies

As the outcome hung in the balance, labor unions called on their members — the same "shirtless one" or have nots who idolized Peron — to be ready to defend their rights.

The powerful General Labor Confederation alerted workers for battle against any dictatorial attempt. Other groups of unions urged "urgent measures to prepare to fight in defense of the people's will and the constitutional rights."

Government House sources reported that Argentine navy chiefs who had spearheaded the revolution that toppled exiled dictator Juan D. Peron in 1955 held fast to their demand that Frondizi must be removed immediately.

Navy Argues

Informants said army and air force leaders agreed to a compromise settlement that would let Frondizi stay in—but they were having little success convincing the navy.

Nixon Draws White House's Return Fire

DENIAL IS BACKED UP BY DULLES

. . . In Cuban Incident

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

Washington (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon drew return fire from the White House Tuesday with his charge that President Kennedy endangered security of the Cuban invasion attempt by campaign statements.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy knew nothing about U.S. support of a possible Cuban invasion until after he won the 1960 election.

Dulles

Kennedy was briefed twice during the 1960 campaign by Allen Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, but Salinger said these consisted mainly of a broad review of the world situation.

In a separate statement, Dulles backed up the White House. He said:

"There has been here, I believe, an honest misunderstanding. This was probably due to the nature of the message Mr. Nixon writes he received as to these briefings. The Cuban situation was, of course, dealt with in the briefings I gave to Sen. Kennedy . . .

"My briefings were intelligence briefings on the world situation. They did not cover our own government's plans or programs for action, overt or covert."

Says Kennedy Informed

Nixon, who lost to Kennedy by a narrow margin, said in his book, "Six Crises," that Kennedy had been informed during the CIA briefings that the Eisenhower administration was training Cuban exiles for an invasion.

During the campaign, Nixon said, Kennedy called for action to "strengthen the non-Batista democratic anti-Castro forces in exile and in Cuba itself who offer eventual hope of overthrowing Castro."

The former vice president said this was the only time during the 1960 presidential campaign that he actually became angry at Kennedy.

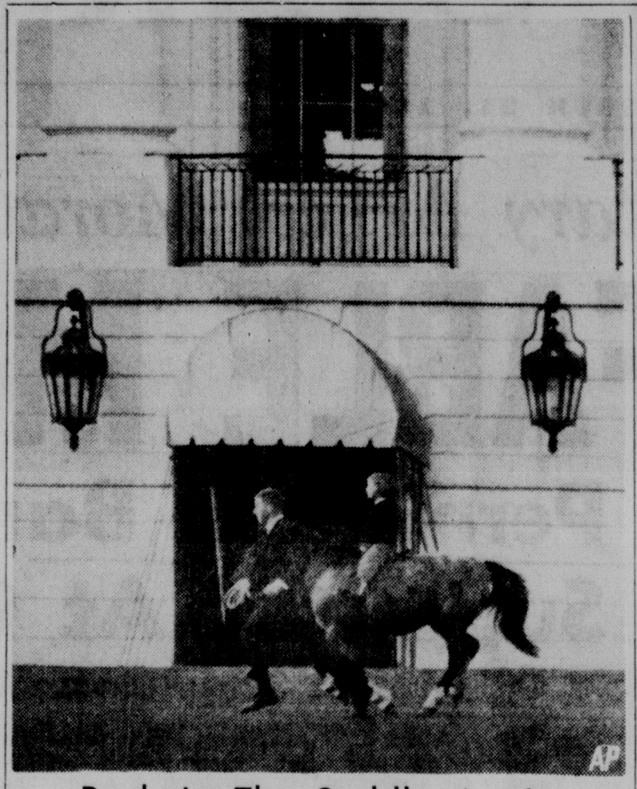

Nixon said he had been one of the strongest advocates of the Cuban operation, but now he was forced to oppose it in public statements.

"The covert operation had to be protected at all costs," said Nixon. "I must not suggest even by implication that the United States was rendering aid to rebel forces in and out of Cuba. In fact, I must go to the other extreme; I must attack the Kennedy proposal to provide such aid as wrong and irresponsible because it would violate our treaty commitments."

He Did Just That

A review of the transcript of the fourth Kennedy-Nixon television debate shows that the former vice president did just that. He said Kennedy's Cuban proposals were "probably the most dangerously irresponsible recommendations" of the campaign.

Instead of promoting a revolution, Nixon proposed the United States should cut off trade and diplomatic relations with Cuba "so that the people of Cuba themselves will take care of Mr. Castro."

Back In The Saddle Again

Caroline Kennedy, the President's 4-year-old daughter, rode her pony, Macaroni, on the south grounds of the White House Tuesday. An unidentified handler has to step along to keep pace.

Cleft Palate Program Assured Federal Funds

State Welfare Director Frank Woods said Tuesday he has received official notification from the federal government that it will make funds available to support the cleft palate program at Orthopedic Hospital to the end of the 1961-63 biennium.

It had appeared earlier the program would terminate March 31 because the state's crippled children's services are now under two departments which was in conflict with a federal requirement that they be under one head.

Woods had asked for a reinterpretation of the federal policy to cover the problem in Nebraska occasioned by creation of the departments of Institutions and Welfare when the old Board of Control system was abolished.

The Welfare director said Tuesday that federal funds have been made available to the end of this fiscal year, June 30, and assurance given the program will be carried on the next fiscal year.

The federal funds total $2,800 a month which pay for 5 registered nurses, one practical nurse, a pediatrician, a social service worker and a secretary to carry on the program at the Orthopedic Hospital.

Woods said he and Institutions Director George Morris are still working on an agreement which will make it possible for the state to obtain federal matching monies for other crippled children's services at the hospital.

Availability of the federal matching funds would make it possible for the state to expand its services beyond the 4 fields now covered: orthopedic, cerebral palsy, rheumatic fever and cleft palate.

Funds Ready For Addition At Orthopedic

State Institutions Director George Morris said Tuesday sufficient funds would be accumulated to build a $200,000 out-patient clinic-school addition to Orthopedic Hospital this year if Gov. Frank Morrison approves it.

The funds would come from the Department of Institutions' share of the state institution building fund levy and would be available by the time plans are ready and the facility to be replaced is razed.

Morris said recommendations of the State Health Board that the Orthopedic Hospital be continued at Lincoln and that a new building be constructed placed him in the position now of being able to give Morrison "all the facts."

He expects to confer with the governor later this week, Morris said, and at that time also will present to him plans for the out-patient clinic-school addition which are being worked out now by Institutions Engineer Carl Botsford and Dr. Fritz Teal, chief of staff at Orthopedic.

Tersely Told Tales

Washington (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy Tuesday suggested cutting the cost of stock in a proposed new space communications corporation from $1,000 a share to $100 to broaden ownership.

He also proposed increasing the capitalization beyond the suggested $1 billion and limiting even further the number of shares any individual could hold, in order to let more people participate in the new venture.

clear superiority over the Russians without resorting to more atmospheric testing.

'Worst Possible Time'

Another professor from the NU history department, Robert Forster, said President Kennedy's announcement of the April tests came at the "worst possible time in light of the Geneva Conference."

Spingarn pointed out later that this announcement was well-timed insofar as it forced Premier Khrushchev to commit Russia to either a speed-up or slow-down of the nuclear arms race.

William Reichert, an NU political scientist, was somewhat more pessimistic than Spingarn. Reichert said:

"If we keep on insisting on inspection as a preliminary to disarmament talks in the face of (Russia's) objections, there is no possibility for peace."

"Most of us are getting to the point now where we've lived with it (the arms race) about as long as we can."

Points of Accord

Aming the points of agreement in discussion groups were:

—Americans are not the only "good guys." There are "good guys" among our "enemies" too.

—The fallout shelter propadanda is "railroading" Americans into a failure to protest the idea. The idea of shelters themselves is a negative idea.

—Total disarmament would create massive problems for the U.S. economy, but the problems are solvable.

—We must make more concessions on disarmament questions and inject moral dimensions into negotiations.

Man Breaks Hip In Fall On Icy Sidewalk

After falling on an icy sidewalk on 24th between Holdrege and Potter, Max Kruse was listed in good condition at Lincoln General Hospital early Wednesday.

Police said Kruse, 59, of 1801 No. 24th, broke his right hip.

The investigating officer said when he got to the scene, two men were holding Kruse erect. When he asked them why, the officer said, they replied they were afraid the man would get cold on the ice.

Heart Attack Possible For Smoking Fat Man

A heart attack is definitely possible for a fat man with many troubles and high blood pressure who smokes a lot, eats much fatty food and doesn't get much exercise.

That was one of many thoughts Dr. George E. Wakerlin, a native Midwesterner, left Tuesday evening with Lincoln lawyers and doctors.

Dr. Wakerlin, medical director for the American Heart Association, spoke on "The Promise of Research in Cardiovascular Disease" at the annual joint meeting of the Lancaster County Medical Society and the Lincoln Bar Association.

Arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) is the most serious of the myriad ailments which affect the heart and blood system, Dr. Wakerlin said.

Exact causes of ateriosclerosis are not fully known, he noted, but it can be prevented in many cases.

If it goes far enough, Dr. Wakerlin declared, hardening of the arteries causes a coronary thrombosis, the greatest killer of any cardiovascular disease. Better known as heart attack, it decreases Americans' life expectancy 15 to 20 years.

A lean man with peace of mind and low blood pressure who doesn't smoke too much, gets the proper exercise and follows a low-fat diet has a much better chance of not having a heart attack, the doctor asserted.

As for himself, Dr. Wakerlin said he changed his diet many years ago, and "I like it."

He eats more fish and less steak, he added, because fish has less poly-unsaturated fat than animal meats.

Saturated fats result in a higher cholesterol count in the blood stream, he pointed out, a good indicator a person is chancing a heart attack.

The relation of fats in the blood to how prone a person is to having coronary thrombosis was first pointed out by medical researchers in Russia, Dr. Wakerlin said.

In 1902 — years before communism triumphed over the Czar — a Russian doctor experimentally fed large amounts of fats and cholesterol to dogs, he said. Shortly afterward, many dogs had heart attacks. The Russian pioneering has been widely extended by American researchers, he added.

Looking to the future, Dr. Wakerlin predicted that within 20 years, scientists will discover the basic causes of other big cardiovascular killers — birth defects, rheumatic heart disease and hypertension.

"It is a possibility," he declared, that mechanical hearts will be perfected in the future. "Many laboratories are working on it."

Lincoln's Heart Attack Rate Low; Study Is Planned

For unknown reasons, Lincoln has the lowest heart attack rate of any city in the United States in its population class, Dr. Arthur L. Smith Jr. said Tuesday evening.

Therefore, he told the joint meeting of the Lancaster County Medical Society and the Lincoln Bar Association, the U.S. Public Health Service will conduct a detailed study starting in July to find out why the coronary rate here is low.

Dr. Smith, society president, said the federal study, which will utilize local resources, will be made on a large group of men between 45 and 74.

At the opposite extreme, he added, is Savannah, Ga., where the heart attack rate is highest in the same population class.

Byron Janis Recital Shows Amazing Skill

By RUTH ARDIS

Byron Janis and his amazing piano skill were manifest in a brilliant solo recital which he presented Tuesday evening at the Stuart Theater. There was apparent inspiration, communicated with pleasure and ease — and also astounding strength and control evident in his unusual rapidity of fingers.

Mr. Janis has achieved a well-deserved reputation as one of the great young pianists of our time. Since his debut as soloist with the NBC Symphony at the age of 15, he has developed into a mature artist with a tremendous technique which is at all times subservient to his interpretative powers. He had chosen a program of classical and romantic music, played with a minimum effort which belied the terrific technical demands.

Ideal on Mozart

He proved himself an ideal Mozart player through his transparent passage work and eloquent conception of phrases in the Sonata in G Major. Each line and embellishment was clearly enunciated. This same transparency and brilliance was apparent in Schubert's "Impromptu in E-Flat Major."

His interpretation of Chopin's "Sonata in B-Flat" was dramatic and tempestuous, as a whole. The middle section of the well-known "March funebre" (third movement) was beautifully controlled without being oversentimentalized. The speed and virtuosity of the Finale were almost unbelievable.

Outstanding Range

Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition" was played with extraordinary variety of tone color and an astounding range of sonorities and moods. Each of the 11 "pictures" was a musical masterpiece, ending with the massive "Great Gate of Kiev." The enthusiastic response from the audience brought forth two encores.

The next concert by the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra will feature audition winners Jo Ann Otradosky, pianist, and Robert Probasco, oboist. This will be the final concert of the 35th season of the symphony.

Dr. Pfeiler Home

Dr. William K. Pfeiler, chairman of the University of Nebraska German department, went home from St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday, a spokesman said. The professor, 64, of 1627 Woodsview, had been hospitalized since last Thursday.

Luther Decision Awaited

By TED TURPIN
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Osceola — Delegates to the Nebraska conference of the Augustana Lutheran Church Wednesday will vote to decide the future of Luther Junior College at Wahoo.

At a Tuesday afternoon session the approximately 100 delegates voted to consider the Luther College matter at a meeting closed to the press and any non-church members.

The motion to hold a closed meeting was made by the Rev. Theodore Johnson, pastor of the First Lutheran Church in Lincoln. He is a former president of Luther College.

Paul Monson, chairman of the board of administration of the host church, said he could not recall a closed meeting ever being held before at the Nebraska conference's annual convention.

This is the last such convention the Nebraska conference of the Augustana church will ever hold. On January 1, 1963, the Augustana group will join 4 other national Lutheran bodies in a merger to form the Lutheran church in America.

Delegates to the conference expressed a desire to keep "controversy at a minimum" in discussing the future disposition of Luther College. However, all admitted it is a controversial question.

At the Wednesday session the delegates may vote to merge Luther with Midland College at Fremont; to continue to operate both Luther and Midland; to lease Luther to an alumni association formed for that purpose; or to lease the college facilities to still another group — possibly the Lutheran churches of the Wisconsin Synod.

Two representatives of an English packing firm saw some top American hogs first hand at the Midwest Market Hog Show in Fremont. Looking over a pen-of-3 about to enter the judging arena are (from left) Prof. W. J. Loeffel, veteran member of the University of Nebraska's Department of Animal Husbandry; William Prance, Buckinghamshire, England; Guy McReynolds, Ashland, swine raiser; and John Friedlander, also of Buckinghamshire, England. (U of N Photo)

Spring Lamb Price Outlook Better—Olson

Grand Island—"The price outlook for spring lambs is brighter than a year ago," a University of Nebraska farm economist told those attending an Area Lamb Feeders Day here Tuesday.

Fred Olson said the improved outlook may have been caused by liquidation of stock sheep which has been heavy for the past year. However, the liquidation may slow down in the spring as range conditions improve.

"The 12% reduction of ewe lambs in the 13 major sheep states in the West will have a considerable impact upon the supply of sheep and lambs to be slaughtered this year," Olson said.

"If the lambing percentage is 95%, as it has been the past two years, then the 1962 lamb crop will be approximately 20.4 million head, about one million less than last year. Prices would be expected to strengthen as the full impact of the smaller lamb crop is felt," the economist declared.

Ted Doane, University Extension animal husbandman, said that "Nebraska has been one of the top 3 lamb feeding states for many years, excelled only by Colorado and Iowa.

"Nebraska feeders fatten 750 to 800 thousand lambs each year regardless of the figures of 400,000 to 450,000 we quote on feed Jan. 1. This Jan. 1 figure does not take into account the lambs marketed before this date and the lambs purchased after this date," Doane explained.

In a panel discussion, Maynard Jensen of Aurora said that "stray dogs pose one of the worst problems in sheep production. Dogs cause considerable damage in addition to actually killing sheep."

Jensen said he likes to use a radio in the sheep lot at night to prevent sheep from being spooked or worried by outside noises.

English Butcher Shop Leaving Scene, Say Visiting Packers

The butcher shop is gradually disappearing in England, reflecting major changes in the meat marketing structure which accompanied the swing by consumers to supermarket buying.

This analysis was made by two English packing house executives, during a trip to Nebraska which included attending the Midwest Market Hog Show at Fremont and a visit to the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus. At the latter stop they inspected the meats laboratory and Department of Veterinary Science and toured some Nebraska farms having SPF pigs.

John Friedlander and William Prance of T. Wall & Sons packing company of London, said 37 to 40% of the annual hog kill in England still goes to butcher shops, but the amount of pork marketed in this manner is beginning to decline.

From 18 to 20 per cent of English market pigs go into "Wiltshire bacon," in which a whole side of hog is cured for bacon. This type of processing, involving 200 lb. hogs, is diminishing considerably, the English packers stated.

Omahan's Truck Involved In Crash

Oakland, Ia. (AP) — Matthew O'Keefe, 23, of Sioux City, was fatally injured in a rear end collision of his car and a truck on Highway 6 about 10 miles east of here.

Authorities said John Mcgee, 25 of Omaha had slowed down his truck to allow another truck to pass through a bridge and was struck from behind by the Sioux City man's car. O'Keefe died in a hospital at Council Bluffs.

Expect Near 1,000

Omaha (AP) — Between 700 and 1,000 persons including national president Arthur S. Daniels, are expected March 21-24 for the Central District Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation meeting here. Tom Hallstrom of the Omaha public schools is chairman of the 9 state convention.

Irrigationists Will Testify

McCook (AP) — Representatives of the Frenchman-Cambridge Irrigation District expect to appear Thursday at a hearing in Washington on a bill which would extend from 5 to 10 years the development period for irrigation districts.

Cloyd Hoyt of McCook, president of the Frenchman-Cambridge District, said passage of this bill would mean that local irrigators would get water about $3 per acre cheaper for the next 5 years than they will if the repayment phase of the contract begins, as originally agreed, after a 5-year development period.

Presently irrigators pay for the maintenance and operation of the canal systems but are given a grace period of 5 years before starting to repay part of the original cost of the systems.

He said officials of the Nebraska and Kansas districts also will be at the hearing. Don Thompson, McCook, president of the Republican Valley Conservation Association, said the RVCA will be represented by M. O. Ryan, its Washington counsel.

Raid Brings Illegal Liquor Sale Charges

Hastings (AP) — A charge of illegal sale of liquor was filed Tuesday by County Attorney Don Brock against Emil Arness, alias Emil Fernandez Jr.

The charges grew out of a raid by State Liquor Control Commission agents Saturday on a private club in a Hastings hotel.

Rites Thursday For Dr. Fouts, Ex-Masonic Head

Central City—Funeral services for Dr. Frederick Fouts, 85, retired Central City physician and prominent citizen, will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church here.

Dr. Fouts

A native of Central City, he attended Bellevue College and Creighton University School of Medicine. He began practicing in Central City in 1904 and the following year he went as a Presbyterian medical missionary to China for 6 years.

After returning to the U.S. he served on the faculty of Clifton Springs Sanitarium in Clifton Springs, N.Y. Later he returned to Central City and retired from active practice in 1960.

Active in the Presbyterian Church, he served as an ordained elder for 49 years and was on the board of Hastings College for 20 years.

Prominent in Masonic Lodge circles, he was a past grand master of the Grand Council and Select Masters of Nebraska. He had also served on the Central City school board, city council, library board and cemetery board.

Surviving are his wife, Wilma; a daughter, Mrs. Earl Cooper, Hanover, Pa.; and 4 grandchildren.

Transient Dies, Another Hurt In Rail Car Mishap

North Platte (AP)—One transient was killed and another suffered minor injuries Tuesday in a railroad car accident.

The dead man was identified as Robert Lee Henderson, 25, of Lancaster, Ohio. Authorities said he was riding in a coal car loaded with steel beams when the car was suddenly slowed by retarders in the Union Pacific yards here.

The beams slid to the end of the car striking Henderson.

His companion, Tony Stacatto, 40, of New York City, was later sentenced to 10 days in jail for illegally riding the train.

A railroad spokesman said Henderson had boarded the train Monday night in Denver.

6 Candidates For Governor Invited To Omaha Affair

Omaha (AP) — The Omaha Chamber of Commerce has invited the 6 candidates for governor to address a public affairs luncheon April 5.

The 6 are Gov. Frank B. Morrison; Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks, McCook, and Tony Mangiamelli, Omaha, all Democrats; and Fred A. Seaton, Hastings; George A. Clarke, Harrison; and Louis H. Hector, Lincoln, all Republicans.

The candidates will each be given 10 minutes to discuss their personal campaign platforms.

Doane's Summer School Dates Set

Crete (AP) — The summer session at Doane College will run from June 11 through Aug. 3.

The summer school director, Dr. Arthur J. Nebelsick, said the program this year will be flexible to assist regularly employed teachers to meet certification requirements.

The schedule includes a presession workshop on conservation education from May 28 through June 9.

Skala Chosen

Painful But Constructive

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

When former State Purchasing Agent George Morris was named by Gov. Frank Morrison as director of state institutions, it was noted that Morris has a tendency to become involved in controversy. Yet, it is important that this kind of a picture be carefully examined. It can be said, for instance, that the least controversial person of all is the one who does nothing. And at the same time, he is the last one to make any worthwhile contribution to his state or community or nation.

So being controversial is not always a bad thing. This is easy to see in the case of Mel Steen, head of the State Game, Forestation and Parks Commission. Steen, too, has a capacity for getting into controversy but he has been an outstanding public official and done a tremendous job for the state of Nebraska. If more people thought the way Steen does, there would be no holding this state in its growth and prosperity. But there is no denying the man is a controversial figure. He seems to come by it naturally as evidenced by the fact that there was some criticism of a recent pay boost which raised him to $13,620 a year.

Credit Side To Controversy

Steen was entitled to the raise, every penny of it, but the change was criticized because it was never publicly announced. Steen explained that this was an oversight, not an intentional thing. Recently, George Morris triggered a controversy over the Orthopedic Hospital at Lincoln and this, too, is more than merely the director's capacity to become engaged in a dispute.

Morris, in fact, asked three relatively simple questions as to need for orthopedic care, the best way of meeting it and the availability of federal construction funds. Morris didn't intend that the matter be the knock-down-and-drag-out that it has been but he didn't reckon with some of the interests involved.

Perhaps he didn't think of the fact that Lincoln has long been discriminated against by the Hospital Division of the State Health Department and the department itself in the allocation of federal Hill-Burton funds. With the division under Verne Pangborn and the department under Dr. E. A. Rogers, Omaha has walked off with a fantastic share of Hill-Burton funds and Lincoln has gotten but a very few crumbs. It is no wonder in view of Pangborn's and Rogers' past actions that Morris' questions suddenly became the cause for moving the Orthopedic Hospital to Omaha. If it had been so moved, even the state would have undoubtedly seen to it that Hill-Burton funds were available for construction work.

Actually, these funds have always been available for state hospital construction and it was Nebraska interpretation under Pangborn and Rogers that crippled any effort at getting them. But it was made clear in the State Health Board hearing this week that such funds are available for state hospital construction any place in the state. Thus, the door has now been opened for funds for the state mental institutions, the Children"s Home at Beatrice and other institutions. It was at this same hearing that the State Health Board threw off the Omaha influence and recommended in strong terms for continued and improved orthopedic care at Lincoln. This was a momentous decision because it means the board from now on will take its own look at things in Nebraska and decide issues on their merit, not according to Omaha power plays.

It is unfortunate that such commercial aspects as these must become a part of the crippled children's program in the state but the development has not been the doing of Lincoln or of George Morris. The controversy he accidentally created here was not of his intent but it has had some good results. It has cleared the air far beyond the matter of the Orthopedic Hospital.

Just as controversy can have its constructive side, so we must not be too disgusted with commercial considerations. They may not always be pleasant but they are essential because it takes money to get most jobs done. The program of care for crippled children hasn't been desecrated by discussion of the best means of providing a physical plant to meet the needs.

However, the entire issue is not yet over with. Morris must now make his recommendations to the governor who might want to hear, too, from the Institutions Advisory Board. The issue could then go in several directions. There could be immediate construction to replace the old 1905 part of Orthopedic Hospital and there could be a delay in the hopes of obtaining federal construction funds or more money from the Legislature. But it would appear that the air has now been considerably cleared and that a more reasoned approach to the subject might be expected from now on.

New Approach In Offing

If this is the case, there has been no permanent harm done by the recent controversy and it has served some useful purposes. The only thing now that can hurt the orthopedic care of children in Nebraska is a prolonged discussion of the details or providing this care. Morris and Governor Morrison can see to it that this does not take place.

"Cheer Up Men—I Brought You Some More Reading"

Second District Dedication

Residents of Lincoln have no direct interest in the Second Congressional District elections but a rather unusual development has taken place there. Generally when people run for public office, they manage to work the campaign in somehow with their means of livelihood. It is because of near necessity of doing this, in fact, that many are discouraged from running for public office.

Thus, it was unusual to find that an Omaha candidate for Congress, Dr. Tom Bonner, is taking a leave of absence from Omaha University to campaign on the Democratic ticket for election to the House. Bonner, thus, will be giving up his livelihood for the time of the campaign. It is true that he can return to his job if he should be defeated but his action is still a substantial sacrifice.

The cynical critic might say that it is to Bonner's own advantage to do this but such a thought is a twisted one. It will permit him greater freedom of time in which to campaign but it will mean, too, less money for campaigning and the latter is just as important these days as the former. What his action does is demonstrate a sense of dedication and determination that would be an admirable quality for all candidates.

Too many people today shy away from politics for reasons a lot more insignificant than the one being surrendered by Bonner. They have a tendency to look down on politics as though it were something unworthy of their attention. The last thing they would consider would be the making of any personal sacrifice to the cause of politics. They will throw a few dollars into a political coffer and consider their responsibility fulfilled. If more people were willing to sacrifice to the extent Dr. Bonner has and had the faith in our political system that he demonstrates, we would have very little to worry about on the various governmental fronts.

Getting On The Beam

Judge Phillip Gilliam of the Denver juvenile court insists that today's high school students seem to have a new lift. They are fed up with mediocrity. They have established their own codes of conduct in their drive for decent living.

The judge went on to say to a Hastings audience that juvenile crime is on the wane and the worries which best beset communities five years ago when their youth seemed lost and unresponsive are passing away. This, of course, is heartening news. But it is to be recalled that many adults felt lost and unresponsive several years ago. Some still do.

The judge is a competent witness. He has handled 170,000 cases the past 26 years. But his testimony must be rationally weighed. It is a mistake to judge youth as rising or falling according to standards set by adults, based upon the past. An examination of the record fails to reveal a generation that ever went wholly to pot or wholly the other way. But there is lots of evidence that youth reflects the impact of changing conditions more sensitively than do adults, as manifested by its behaviour. There is also evidence that youth adjusts to its challenges more swiftly. From that one can read into the judge's observation that our youth is finding its bearings and is advancing purposefully toward its tasks. If it is tired of mediocrity, as the judge says, then it is resolved to make a conquest of sophistication and that is a saving attitude as far as the nation is concerned. Mediocrity in this instance only means the accepted pace assumed before sputnik, which is not quite fast enough for today. If there was an emotional derailment five years ago while youth was groping there is every probability that maturity will cure it, as it always has. But it is a more saving thing that youth has begun to assert itself constructively.

Doing A Good Job

Among all the farming groups it must be said that the western wheat growers are taking the most thorough and diligent steps toward abating the problem of too much production. Their leadership is not remaining at home calling on someone to do something. It is out doing what it can, and doing it around the world.

Wheat men have just returned from Geneva, Switzerland, where they were in close attendance at the sessions which work out the annual international wheat agreement. Others of them are in Washington giving best thought to legislation seeking domestic remedies. In recent years wheat men have made personal sales calls at foreign capitals. They have visited food short countries to get first hand information on how to widen the flow of wheat to the mutual benefit of the hungry people and the U.S. wheat business. It is true that some of these missions get diverted as did one in South America when the wheat representatives were so touched by the hunger of the natives that they discarded plans for selling wheat and assessed themselves to provide a meal a day for the hungry children. This may have been bad business but it was excellent diplomacy.

Unquestionably the wheat men will be rewarded by some expansion in trade, whether enough to solve the surplus problem one does not know. But this much is certain, the wheat men are becoming conversant with the whole world food picture and that alone is laying the foundation for planning of utmost realism. This is something other farm groups should practice, for without a world-wide grasp of the problem it is doubtful that they can offer advice that will stand the test of facts.

Jacqueline's Trip Started By Chance

WASHINGTON—Inside fact about the current glamor trip of Jacqueline Kennedy is that it got started by accident and was almost killed by her husband. He preferred that she stay at home.

What happened was that Prime Minister Nehru of India, sitting beside Mrs. Kennedy at a White House dinner last November, remarked: "You must come to India."

She replied: "I'd love to."

Mrs. K. thought no more about it, but Nehru did. He went home, began conferring with the U.S. ambassador, Ken Galbraith, shortly sent a long and detailed itinerary for the first lady. It took the President by surprise and he got on the telephone to Galbraith to discourage the trip.

Galbraith, however, is not a man easily discouraged. He was not discouraged when he first plumped for Kennedy for president, a year before the convention and when most observers didn't think JFK had a chance. And not being one who surrenders easily, Galbraith hopped on a plane and came to Washington to sell Kennedy on the Indian trip for Jackie. He succeeded.

Then President Ayub of Pakistan got into the act and invited Jackie to come to his country. The implication was that if she went to India without visiting its bitter rival, Pakistan, that candlelit dinner on the lawn at Mount Vernon would count for nothing.

All reports are, however, that Jackie is having a wonderful time and winning a lot of friends for the USA, in an area where we need friends and where Khrushchev and Bulganin once spent two weeks on a very successful barnstorming trip. Maybe Mrs. Kennedy should travel more.

The Republicans have quietly started grooming an eventual candidate for governor of New York in a manner that confirms the suspicion of Sen. Bill Fulbright of Arkansas.

Two years ago when Ogden Reid of the famous New York Herald Tribune family was up for confirmation as ambassador to Israel, Senator Fulbright opposed him on the grounds that he was using the Israeli ambassadorship as a stepping stone to Albany. The diplomatic post in Israel would help him win the big Jewish vote in running for governor of New York, Fulbright suspected.

Reid, however, denied this. He said he had no political ambitions and no foreseeable plans to run for governor of New York or mayor of New York or, he implied, any other New York political post.

But up in Westchester county the other day, Edwin Michaelian, Republican boss of the county, quietly served notice on GOP Congressman Edwin B. Dooley that he should "move over" and let Ogden Reid run instead. He said Dooley could become chairman of the New York state fitness program under Rockefeller at $18,000 a year.

UN Loan Becomes Controversial

WASHINGTON — The Senate controversy over how best to help the United Nations out of its financial difficulties began in a low key but has developed into one of those unhappy fracases in which people on the same side are fighting one another.

All agree that the UN should have $100,000,000 to pay its deficits; the difference is only one of method. These deficits arise from UN special missions which the Soviet Union refuses to support, as the Congo operation.

President Kennedy proposed a 25-year bond issue which skinned by the Senate Foreign Relations committee eight to seven. Republican Senators George Aiken (Vt.), Bourke Hickenlooper (Iowa), and Thruston Morton (Ky.) propose to substitute a loan to be repaid in three years.

The position now is that a close vote in the Senate is expected. Private polls indicate about 40 votes for the substitute which is much too close for comfort, especially as the make-weight votes will come from conservative Southerners.

☆ ☆ ☆

Senate majority Leader Mike Mansfield is obviously delaying the floor fight in the hope of achieving a better solution. He feels that a narrow victory in the Senate would encourage the House conservative coalition to turn the bill around and thoroughly confuse the issue when the two chambers confer on its final form.

How this situation developed is unclear. It appears that the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk did not realize that it might be a problem and so took too little care with their presentations.

The President, normally so aware of Senate pride, permitted himself to say that opposition to the bond issue would be playing the Soviet game. Apparently this irked Vermonter Aiken, a firm internationalist who has some conservative views about how to handle money.

It did not help when Philip Klutznick of the United States mission to the UN testified for the bond issue with more arrogance than wisdom. The Foreign Relations minority promptly began to line up with Aiken.

By this time it looks as if a foreign policy issue will also be a party issue. This is something the members of Foreign Relations have managed to prevent in recent years.

Nor does it seem to the men and women who carry the day-to-day burden at the United Nations that much attention is being paid to their stake in a more amicable solution. They consider the tactical struggle unjustified and insist it will certainly be misunderstood by UN member nations.

Even a brief visit to the UN gives the strong impression that that peace forum is almost Oriental in its feeling about the intangible called "face." Much attention is paid to formalities and personal pride. UN membership itself is a status symbol to new nations.

The question is raised of whether the senators are giving enough weight to the fact that the UN Assembly considered the bond proposal and, in the light of its own problems as it sees them, hopes for its passage.

THEY WALKED WITH CHRIST

Jude

"And Judas the brother of James . . ." —Luke VI:16

Jude, who was known also as Judas Thaddeus and Lebbeus, was another son of Alpheus and, consequently, a close relative of Jesus.

Beyond being mentioned in the catalogue of Apostles, the New Testament tells us very little about Jude, except indirectly. For example, as one of "the brethren of the Lord," Jude may have been married. It is also said that he did not fully believe in Jesus and His mission until after the Resurrection.

The only incident related by Scripture concerning Jude during the ministry of Jesus occurs in John XIV:22-23, but it gives some insight into the character of the Apostle.

Jude asks Jesus: "Lord, how is it that Thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?"

Jesus replied: "If a man love Me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with Him."

Jude is author of one of the General Epistles which bears his name. During the third and fourth centuries, several of the churches raised doubts as to its canonicity, but it was later considered canonical by all.

In his epistle (or letter), Jude warns the congregation against a number of false teachers and heresies of that time, and exhorts the Christians to persevere in the faith.

Commenting on Jude's epistle, Hastings, in his "Great Texts of the Bible," says:

"He sounds the final note of warning. The key word is 'kept'. Those who embrace the faith are preserved unto the day of presentation; those who reject and oppose the faith are 'reserved' unto the day of retribution."

Little is known of Jude's history following Pentecost. Some ancient sources say he traveled and preached in Arabia, Syria, Mesopotamia and Persia.

Afflictions

Beatrice, Neb.

One thing that burns me up is to pick up a paper and see where some "deaf and dumb" person has done something wrong. Why doesn't the paper just say "deaf" as a lot of people do things that are wrong and the paper never calls those people "dumb." We don't call insane people "dumb" or the mentally retarded "dumb."

I believe it's through the grace of God that we aren't all afflicted in some way. I am the sister of a deaf person and I know the heartaches he endures by not being able to hear. It hurts these many deaf people to call them "deaf and dumb."

School Problems

Lincoln, Neb.

Mr. W. T. Davis is a most expressive writer. His opinion on split school sessions is met with an enthusiastic "amen" by voices of long-suffering, protesting taxpayers and frustrated parents. With some talk of discontinuing kindergarten, class splits of grade groups would be an open invitation to earlier delinquency. Children must have something to do at an early age. There are no longer enough home chores to fill a child's day.

It seems that Lincoln, which boasts of its fields of learning, is 20 years behind times in preparation for the mass flooding of hungry young minds of the increasing population.

The simple task of feeding the children should be arranged so all will receive the same food every day. There have been cases where small children were not permitted to buy soup or pie because it was kept for the older students. And sometimes small one are expected to go home at noon, though they may live over a mile away, often trudging through bad weather to empty homes where parents both work. Older pupils use this time for shopping, shows or jam sessions. Many states solve this by free bus fare, but here there is a special rate unless a student has after-school work, then he must pay full regular fare.

And there is a definite need for vacations through the hot months. Adults plan and save for this—the youngsters need it, too.

Respect For Vinson

Union, N.J.

Walter Lippmann presumes to be the fourth branch of the government. He has quarreled with the respected Carl Vinson of the Armed Services Committee over the question of mass production of the super B-70 plane. He averred that Vinson "lost patience" and was on the verge of directing the President to reverse his weird attitude toward this particular plane. Congress will do that.

Once the "boy wonder," Lippmann now does not rate with a school-boy of average mentality. Every one of the latter knows that Congress devises our laws, determines treason, appropriates enabling funds and directs us forward to greater democracy. Rep. Vinson is 100 per cent right and Americans must rally behind him.

I agreed about half the time with Lippmann's writings over 50 years, but now I contend he should be ignored by Congress and the President should be alerted against his glibness. Vinson is a most able man and a painstaking researcher. We have so few of the latter.

Total Abstinence

Lincoln, Neb.

I was born in a state that was dry before prohibition became legal, and have been a total abstainer from intoxicating liquors all my life. I have never been in a saloon or tavern.

We have lived in Lincoln for 37 years and have enjoyed being citizens of such a fine city, but we are very much concerned about the liquor-by-the-drink question which may come before the voters. We have reared a family of seven who all attended the University of Nebraska and are now on their own. They have followed their parents' footsteps as total abstainers and found it a distinct advantage to them in their occupations and in rearing their own families.

It is distressing to learn of the many who are sentenced because of drunken driving, and the many injuries and fatalities on our highways where drinking is involved. The combined years of driving for all our children would represent 200 years; without a single accident. Total abstinence from liquor certainly helps.

Let us try to reduce the drinking in Lincoln instead of increasing the privileges. Let us, rather, stress the education of our youth about the dangers of alcohol.

Both Sides

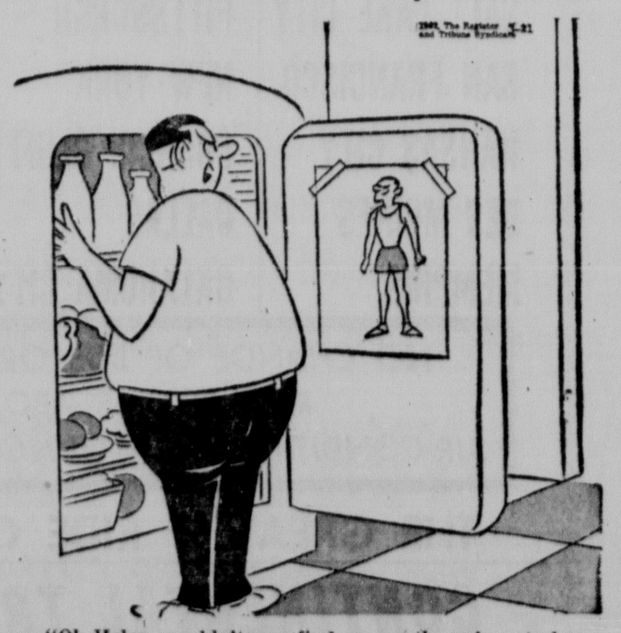

Lincoln, Neb.

I have been thinking about what has been said about those of us who think it is no sin to use alcoholic beverages in moderation. I spent several years in the armed forces of our country and thought I had lived, worked and fought with every kind of individual for the principles which I had been led to believe in and which our country stands for in the world today. But when I read some narrow-minded opinions, I wonder if the efforts of a lot of my friends were not in vain.

In the matter of liquor by the drink, they seem to have all the facts and figures and use them in a way to benefit their own way of thinking, but the same sources could be used to prove the other side of the debate. I am not trying to quote figures or prove that there is not both a good and bad side to alcohol, but that those of us who are trying to get liquor by the drink legalized in our city merely wish to stop the present illegal traffic of liquor by the drink and put it out in the open, licensed, as it should be.

School Lands Group Finishes Study

The Legislative Council School Lands Study Committee Tuesday completed its recommendations which will be the basis of possible legislation in 1963, but the specific suggestions will not be made public until the full Council meets in mid-November.

The committee action was taken in executive session at the conclusion of a full day of hearings.

Chairman Elvin Adamson did report, however, that 3 areas of possible legislation were considered by the committee:

—Land management proposals, particularly the feasibility of establishing a private land management group to handle the school lands rather than the present Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

—Soil conservation practices, irrigation assessments and combining and splitting of leases.

—Possibility of varying the length of leases so the expiration time could be staggered more conveniently. More than 50% of the 12-year leases are scheduled to expire in 1963.

No More Meetings

No future meetings of the study committee are anticipated, Adamson said, but the door is not closed to a meeting if one is warranted.

In an appearance before the committee Tuesday afternoon, Board of Educational Lands and Funds member Harry Garber of Imperial defended the policy of bonuses for school land leases on the grounds they are "a great equalizer."

Committee member Sen. M. M. Forrester of Anselmo questioned whether 6% of the appraised value of the land isn't enough to charge for the leases.

Board Member Clive Short of Chadron said he considered competitive bidding for leases the only way to sell leases to public lands.

Garber suggested it might be better to present an improvement land conservation plan at the time of the sale so the bidders for leases could know just what was expected of them.

Representatives of the Nebraska Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts had told the committee earlier that a strong program of conservation practices on state school lands is in the best interests of the state.

Soils Upgraded

Board Secretary Elmer Mahlin told the committee that school land soils have been upgraded rather than destroyed in recent years. Although there are exceptions, some of the finest farmers in the state make up the roster of school land lessees, he said.

Mahlin noted that a staff which includes 3 field men, 4 office employes and the secretary is charged with administering some 4,700 leases which comprise about 3% of the state's land.

Administrative costs in 1961 totaled about 3½ cents per acre. No commercial farm management firm could do it anywhere near as cheaply, he said.

RACE TRACK ASKS SPECIAL LEGISLATION

Speedway Motors has asked the City Council for special legislation that would permit operation of its stock car track in the Capitol Beach area through the 1962 season only.

The West O area, including the race track site, is being annexed June 1 to Lincoln and auto and go-cart racing is prohibited inside the city limits.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson was authorized to prepare an amendment to the prohibitory ordinance to permit a race track which has existed for more than 5 years to operate to Nov. 1, 1962.

Speedway Motors' attorney said the lease is expiring at Capitol Beach which is planned for other development and a new race track location will be sought after the 1962 season.

'Farm Co-Ops Becoming Stronger'

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Farm cooperatives — over 9,300 of them — have shown a 50% increase in business in the past 10 years and prospects are good for a continued increase.

Joseph G. Knapp, administrator of the Farm Cooperative Service, brought that message Tuesday to the National Research and Teaching Conference in agricultural cooperation. The conference is being held at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education — the first time it has been held outside Washington, D.C.

Knapp made these points:

—Cooperatives are becoming large, strong, well-managed integrated systems which can provide farms with many of the business services they require.

—Mass buying organizations are showing willingness to use the services of cooperatives.

—Farmers are widening their experience in using the cooperative form of enterprise in electrification, credit and insurance.

—The Rural Areas Development Program is giving encouragment to the development of cooperatives, through its emphasis on the utilization of local resources.

Conference delegates considered management a key to the future of cooperatives.

Commenting on this, Knapp said: "Business records indicate that cooperatives are steadily increasing their operating efficiency. We can expect an accelerated trend as a result of management training programs, better personnel administration, more emphasis on membership education and increased financial planning."

An aspect of farmer cooperatives that needs special mention, Knapp said, "is their importance in preserving our family farm type of agriculture."

A key cooperative problem, a conference spokesman said, is prejudice caused by widespread allegations and insinuations that they enable farmers to enjoy unfair tax benefits.

These insinuations are often the result of cooperatives not publishing the long list of taxes they pay, the spokesman said.

Nebraska delegates said that in many communities the largest taxpayer in the township is the local cooperative.

Stockpile Inquiry Put Off Indefinitely

. . . BY ANTI-POLL TAX CONTROVERSY

Washington (AP) — The Senate's widely heralded stockpile investigation was delayed indefinitely Tuesday by a controversy over calling up anti-poll tax legislation.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., announced he was forced to postpone Wednesday's scheduled start of the stockpile hearings because of a ban against committee sessions while the Senate is meeting.

Symington

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, agreed on enforcing the no-committee rule in an effort to overcome Southern resistance to calling up a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish poll taxes.

While waiting for a new starting date to be set, Washington is still puzzled about where the stockpile probers will delve and what paydirt they are digging for.

Skullduggery? Both President Kennedy, who requested the inquiry, and Symington, who will conduct it, have said they know of no wrongdoing.

The huge cost of stockpiling? Kennedy said he was astonished at the $7.7-billion total valuation, yet cost has been one of the few stockpile facts regularly and frequently reported to press and public.

Waste? Hindsight says yes, but when the goals originally were set a huge stockpile seemed to be a necessary, if expensive, insurance against unpreparedness and disaster.

A political fishing expedition? This is denied, and on the surface it appears that neither party had a monopoly on the making of mistakes.

Bungling? Quite probably. There have been criticisms of longterm government purchase contracts at high prices; of buying that continued long after the strategic need for materials dwindled; of shipments of substandard quality; of deterioration in storage.

Two Sides To Argument

A strategic boner? Today's assumption is that World War III will be a brief, devastating nuclear conflict instead of the long, conventionally fought struggle that the stockpilers built for. But others believe that, if atomic bombs fall, a huge stockpile would be a God-send for the rebuilding of a smashed industrial economy.

The kick-off session of Symington's Armed Services subcommittee on stockpiling apparently won't give more than hints at the direction the investigation will take. The hearings, it is indicated, may go on intermittently through most of the remaining months of this Congress.

Up to now, the government has withheld even the location of stock-piled materials. There are at least 213 possible spots across the country, in federal warehouses, military depots, storage tanks, open tracts, and in space leased from private industry.

U.S. Rushing Aid To Togo

Washington (UPI) — The United States is rushing 4 shiploads of food to drought and famine stricken areas of northern Togo, it was disclosed Tuesday on the arrival here of Togolese President Sylvanus Olympio.

Olympio, greeted by President Kennedy as an "exceptional figure" in Africa and the world, said at airport arrival ceremonies that he was deeply grateful to learn of the shipments. The President later entertained Olympio at a White House luncheon.

U.S. officials said 14,800 tons of corn meal, dried beans, edible oil and rice were enroute to Togo by ship. About 300 tons of U.S. food already have been diverted to Togo from stockpiles in other areas of Africa.

Out of a total population of 500,000 in the northern districts, some 350,000 people are seriously affected by food shortages, officials said.

Business Upturn Is Resumed

. . . Pace Slows Some

Washington (UPI) — The business upturn has resumed after a brief pause in January, but it is not as brisk as it was in late 1961, the Commerce Department said Tuesday.

Unofficial estimates were that gross national product—the sum of all business activity — will hit an annual rate for the fist 3 months of 1962 of roughly $550 billion. That would be another new high, but a skimpy advance from the $542.2 billion rate of the last quarter of 1961.

A $550 billion first quarter rate would jeopardize, but not rule out, achievement of the $570 billion gross national product forecast by the administration for all of 1962.

Economists emphasized that the $550 billion figure may change a full billion dollars up or down when more data is available.

Buying demand is increasing in a number of important areas, the department said. But in autos and home building, traditional swing sectors of the economy, spending has eased recently.

The slowdown in home building was pointed up by figures from the department disclosing that housing starts fell sharply in February in their fourth concecsutive monthly decline. Starts on private dwelling units dropped 11% from January to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,126,000—a 13-month low.

On the plus side, the department reported in its monthly survey of business conditions that "consumers have been purchasing at a good pace so far this year" and further additions to business inventories are expected.

"A continuation of the rising flow of consumer purchasing power is indicated by" February's rise in personal incomes, the department said.

Dr. A. Douglass, First Tree Ring Counter, Is Dead

Tucson, Ariz. (AP)—Dr. Andrew Ellicott Douglass, who founded the scientific study of tree ring growth, died Tuesday at the age of 94.

The science he started, known as dendrochronology and used to study weather secrets, now is practiced throughout the world.

A Harvard-trained astronomer, Dr. Douglass was an authority on Mars and maintained that there was life on the planet. He founded 3 observatories, one in Peru, Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., and Steward Observatory at the University of Arizona.

Douglass developed an interest in the pine forests surrounding Flagstaff. Measurements of rings on yellow pines and comparison of their size with weather reports confirmed his suspicion that the thickness of each year's growth ring was proportional to rainfall.

"Durn them Ramblers!"

On October 12, 1960, muffler shops stopped getting business from buyers of new Ramblers. That's when the 1961 Ramblers with exclusive Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe were introduced. We've been installing them on every Rambler ever since.

Ordinarily a new car buyer can expect to spend about $40 to $75 replacing mufflers and tailpipes before he trades for another new car.

But no matter how long the original buyer owns his Rambler, we'll pay the cost if either muffler or tailpipe rusts out—collision damage excepted. You just go to a Rambler dealer for free replacement. There's no charge for labor or materials. No time limit.

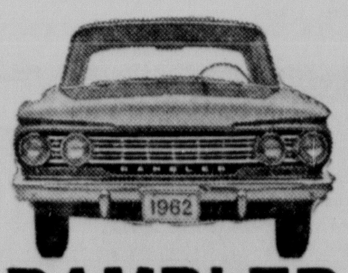

The Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe system is just one of 14 major steps which Rambler takes to fight rust from top to bottom—better than any other car.

Other examples of the many extra lengths to which Rambler goes to bring you a finer, safer, longer-lasting car in 1962:

Double-Safety Brake System and self-adjusting brakes standard. More headroom; 3 year or 33,000 mile chassis lubrication. Higher doors for easier entrance and exit.

Want an easy way to compare cars? Drop by your Rambler dealer's and pick up your free copies of the 1962 Car X-Ray Books.

Give it a try! Your Rambler dealer is offering money-saving specials on all '62 models for a limited time only. See him, soon!

Snook's Force Is Stymied

PHONE GIRLS LOSE ARMS

Foley, Ala. (AP) — John Snook's extensive training of telephone operators as girl commandos has been stymied —at least temporarily.

Federal Alcohol Tax Unit agents seized 8 submachine guns or other automatic weapons which Snook, an executive of the Independent Gulf Telephone Co. of Foley, used as part of the training of the 23 women employes of the company.

The officers said the automatic weapons were not registered with the Treasury Department as required by law. The ATU is a branch of the Treasury Department. Its duties include enforcement of the firearms act.

Publicity

Agents said the seizure resulted from the recent nationwire publicity Snook and the girl commandos received in various publications and on televised network shows.

Snook could not be reached for comment on the seizure. Members of his military-type unit said they had no comment.

The officers said Snook was cooperative and told them he would make every effort to conform with federal regulations governing possession of such automatic weapons.

Family Owned

Snook, a 42-year-old bachelor, is vice president and general manager of the independent telephone company serving about 3,700 customers spread over a rich agricultural area near the Alabama gulf coast. The company is owned by his family.

At Mobile, U.S. Atty. Vernol R. Jansen Jr., said the firearms were seized pending a study of possible criminal liability involved and also a determination of a tax to be imposed. The firearms act authorizes the Treasury Department to tax private owners of automatic weapons.

Snook was not charged and was not taken into custody.

Grand Jury

Jansen said the case will be presented before the federal grand jury at Mobile April 9. Maximum penalty on conviction of violations of the national firearms act is 5 years imprisonment and a fine of $5,000.

Snook, a small, wiry man who wears a Van Dyke beard, said he started the training program in 1948 and it was given impetus after the start of the Korean War when a number of the company's male employes were called to active duty.

Backers Decide To Trim Business Tax Reward Bill

Washington (AP) — A proposed $1.8-billion tax reward for business investing in modern equipment should be slimmed down by about a third, its backers decided Tuesday.

These second thoughts on a controversial tax bill resulted in postponement of the showdown vote in the House, scheduled originally for late this week, until at least next Tuesday.

The bill is an outgrowth of President Kennedy's suggestion that Congress give a tax break to firms willing to spend on improving their plants and recoup the lost revenue by tax tightening changes down the line. But it has been modified sharply from his proposals. The changes were generally in the direction of more loss of revenue.

The outlook was for a $1.5-billion revenue loss next year, which would convert the modest budget surplus Kennedy has forecast into a deficit of $1 billion or more.

So Tuesday Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said the House Ways and Means Committee will make one more major operation on the bill on which it "finished work" last week. He said he has assurances from his committee members that they will agree on amendments cutting back the proposed investment credit by $500 million to $650 million annually.

Republican members, who said they were not consulted on these proposed changes, meanwhile pushed ideas of their own — speeded-up depreciation allowances instead of the investment credit, a different treatment of income from foreign subsidiaries, and deletion of one of the main Democratic revenue-raising measures: withholding of income tax on dividends and interest.

Deny Bomb Charge

Cairo, U.A.R. (AP) —The Omani office here categorically denied a British government charge that rebel Omani tribesmen planted a bomb causing the loss of the British ship Dara. The Dara sank in the Persian Gulf last April with 197 dead.

Two Sentenced For Leaving State

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele Tuesday sentenced two men to one year each in the State Penitentiary on charges of leaving the state as a parolee.

Leon Mummer, 28, had pleaded guilty to leaving the state Oct. 7, 1961, while on parole from the State Penitentiary.

Donald Yellow Cloud, 26, had entered a guilty plea in connection with leaving the state Nov. 10, 1960, while on parole from the Men's Reformatory.

Judge Scheele ordered both terms to run consecutive to each of the inmate's present terms.

NU Professor Offers His Solutions For Berlin

A University of Nebraska history professor, alarmed that the West might be standing pat on its Berlin demands and that Americans might be willing to fight World War III for that divided city's freedom, suggested this 4-step proposal for solving the Berlin tangle Tuesday:

—After a 4-power agreement had guaranteed West Berlin integrity, all but a token troop force should be withdrawn from both East and West Berlin.

—A peace conference should be held after "suitable" revisions had cleansed both East and West German governments. At this conference, which both governments would attend, there should be some "moderate revision" of the Oder-Neisse Line and the basis for a United Nations trusteeship of Berlin.

Negotiations Next

—Next would follow normal negotiations between East and West German governments, supervised by the UN Berlin authority. German reunification would be the aim.

—Finally, a German confederation would be set up and admitted to the U.N. upon the withdrawal of NATO and Warsaw Pact troops which had policed Berlin along with the U.N. The new Germany would belong to the European Common Market and to the East European Economic Federation, but not to NATO nor the Warsaw Pact.

This final step would be coupled with total nuclear demilitarization of Europe by 1970, in his plan.

Dr. Robert Koehl outlined this plan at a conference on "alternatives to war" in Lincoln.

He admitted it sounded like a utopia:

"But it is equally utopian to believe we can stand pat and our way will be achieved."

At several points in his talk, Dr. Koehl lashed at the American press for obscuring the basic issues involved in the Berlin and German problem.

"We must strip it of the romantic falsehoods and hate-filled exaggerations of the mass media to understand it," he coaxed.

The wall that divides Berlin is an outrage, he said, but it is not the impenetrable barrier newspapers and radio commentators paint.

"All is not unity and anti-communist crusading spirit in West Germany today," he said, but you "might never know this from the American press."

Professor Koehl is a specialist on contemporary German —and particularly Nazi — history.

UN's Ability To Guard Peace 'Due To Grow'

An Omaha clubwoman predicted Tuesday the United Nations' ability to guard world peace will grow rather than diminish.

Mrs. Alexander McKie Jr., international relations chairman of the Nebraska AAUW, reviewed the U.N.'s successes and failures and concluded that the current bond issue is "not an unsound plan."

Mrs. McKie addressed a conference in Lincoln on "alternatives to war."

She also criticized the "win-or-no-win" philosophy of some super-patriots who see world problems only in black and white, and she declined to blame Communists for all international problems.

No Immediate Flooding Threat, Welch Reports

While state officials are still concerned, no immediate flood threat is in sight, State Adjutant General Lyle Welch said Tuesday after patrolling the snow-clad northeast by plane.

Welch's conclusions were supported by other sources, though a substantial snow cover remains in northeast Nebraska.

Wakefield has 14 inches of snow on the ground, Oakdale 13 and West Point and Ewing 11 inches each. Water equivalents in these areas are around 4 inches or more.

Ice Thinning

But, ice has been steadily thinning on the Elkhorn River from Pierce to West Point, with a lot of open water visible, according to meteorologist Harold Alexander at Norfolk.

The Elkhorn at Norfolk stood at 6.8 feet Tuesday — the same as Monday. Seven feet is flood warning stage.

The Topeka Weather Bureau issued predictions of flooding on the Big and Little Blue Rivers, but Saline County officials report the Big Blue is within its bounds.

Only a heavy rain, they said, would cause flooding. The same is true of the Little Blue, according to Clay County officials.

Forecasts Modified

Forecasts have been modified about the Blue Rivers because of the moderate snow melt runoffs.

Reports to Operation On Guard headquarters in Lincoln on other eastern Nebraska streams were generally encouraging.

Highway crews worked Tuesday in parts of eastern Nebraska, opening waterways and cleaning ditches in efforts to drain water-logged roads, according to State Maintenance Engineer John McMeekin.

He said that many gravel roads were extremely soft and slow to drain because of ditches being full of ice and snow.

Snowplows continued at work widening openings through snowdrifts in the extreme northeast section of the state, he noted.

Young GOP Sets 5-State Training Meet March 30

At least 150 Young Republicans from 5 states are expected in Lincoln March 30 for a regional conference featuring training sessions in political organization.

Mrs. Marilyn Hasselbalch of Lincoln, program chairman, said representatives are expected from Iowa, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska for the 3-day session.

Nebraska GOP Chairman Robert Denney of Fairbury will be the keynote speaker, Sen. Roman Hruska will address a Saturday noon luncheon and Fred Seaton of Hastings, gubernatorial candidate, will deliver the main address at a dinner Saturday night.

Jerry Roe, executive secretary of the National Young Republicans, will conduct training sessions.

Wedding Planned

Wheeler Filing For CPPD Board Given Approval

Secretary of State Frank Marsh said Tuesday he has accepted — conditionally — the filing of Paul Wheeler of Scottsbluff for director of the Consumers Public Power District.

Marsh advised Francis M. Dischner of Columbus, CPPD assistant secretary, that the filing is accepted "on the condition that we have confirmation from the district that a vacancy exists."

Wheeler seeks to run for the post now held by Earl I. Mead of Scottsbluff, who filed in January for election to the Scotts Bluff County Board but who has not resigned from the CPPD board.

Mead's term as a CPPD director was scheduled to run through 1964.

Marsh said that under the law, Mead's filing appears to create a vacancy on the CPPD board as of the date (next January) when Mead would take office on the county board, if elected. The vacancy would develop whether Mead won the county board race or not, he said.

Wheeler filed for the two years which will remain of Mead's term when Mead vacates it in January.

Chamber Women Support Renewal

The women's division of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce has gone on record in favor of urban renewal for Lincoln.

Miss Aurelia Plautz, president, said the group is backing urban renewal because "it is vital to the success" of some of the major goals in their program for 1962.

She said their program calls for the group to promote, civic, commercial and industrial development, cultural and educational progress, and to cooperate with the Chamber in advancing these interests within the city.

The Lincoln Chamber previously urged approval of an urban renewal proposal up for a vote May 15.

Justice Department Having Trouble Prosecuting Police Brutality Cases

Washington (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Tuesday the Justice Department has run into trouble prosecuting police brutality cases, and he asked that Congress strengthen the law on the subject.

The request was in a letter to House Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., accompanying a legislative proposal which would place greater responsibility upon arresting officers for the safety of their prisoners and increase the penalty for police brutality.

The present maximum penalty for beating or threatening prisoners is one year in prison and a $1,000 fine.

The Justice Department proposed increasing this to 5 years and $5,000 in cases involving any physical injury and to life imprisonment in cases involving the death of a prisoner.

"This department has encountered a number of difficulties in prosecuting cases of police brutality," Kennedy wrote McCormack.

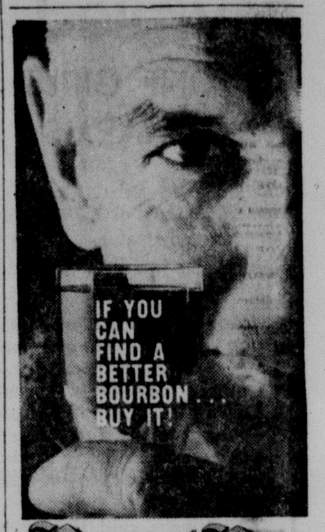

He said the "generality of the statutory language (existing law) makes it difficult to impress upon grand and petit jurors the specific nature of the offense."

The department's civil rights division said it had received 621 complaints of police brutality in the year ended last June 30. About one-fourth were found worth formal investigation, a division official said, and these included "very few prosecutable cases."

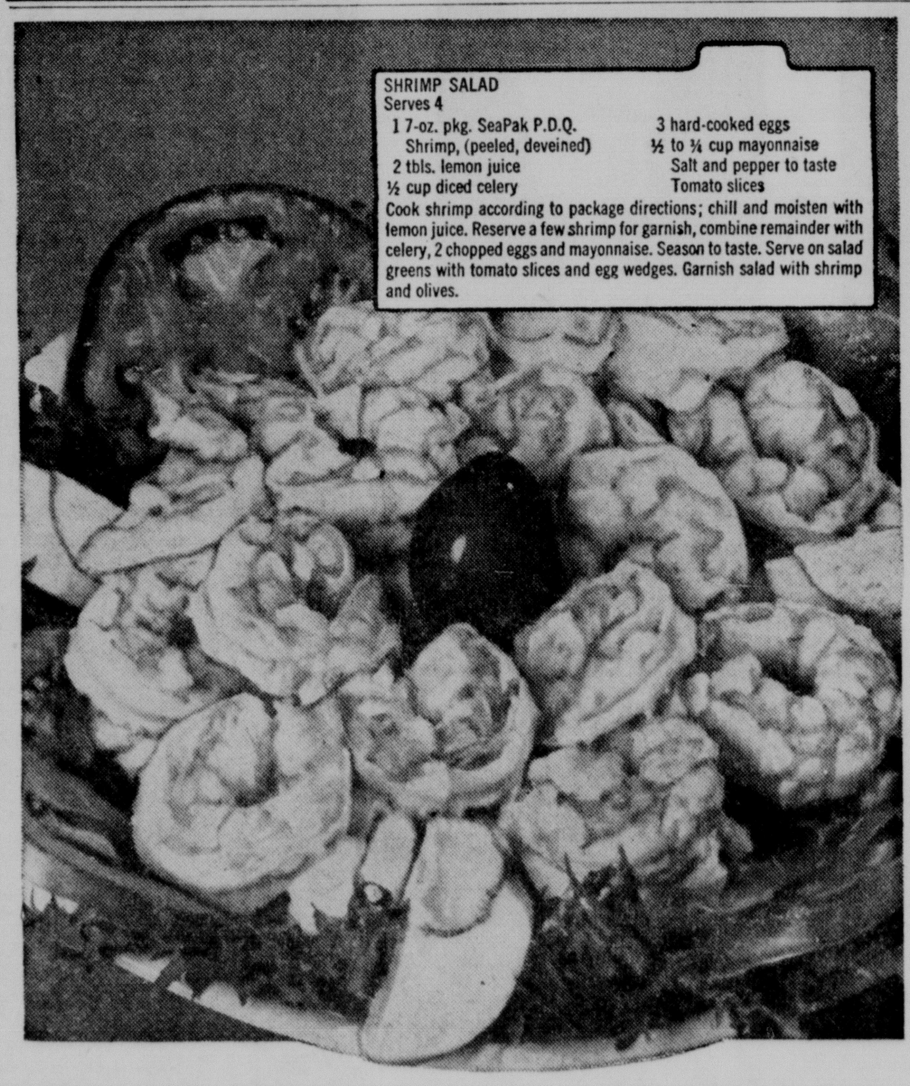

He said 13 cases were presented to grand juries, two indictments were returned, 6 cases were rejected by the jury, 3 others were referred to state prosecutors and 6 cases resulted in warnings to local police.

Kennedy said present law "permitted offending police officers to raise the defense that they did not know of the particular constitutional guarantee they were charged with violating, let alone had the specific intent to violate it."

"The proposed bill would meet these difficulties," Kennedy said.

First Lady Gives India Formal Goodby

New Delhi (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy said her formal goodbys to India Tuesday night at the end of a 9-day visit hailed by Indian and American officials as a tonic for good will between their countries.

As Mrs. Kenaedy prepared to fly to Pakistan Wednesday, the Indian ambassador to the United States, B. K. Nehru, said the young and striking American First Lady had "charmed everyone wherever she went."

The 52-year-old cousin of Prime Minister Nehru said he and Mrs. Kennedy were impressed by the warmth of the crowds that turned out to see her on her look at India. The consensus of American and Indian officials who spent months planning the visit was that it would help improve Indian-American relations.

Bigger Show

Most of all, Indian officials privately said they hoped the climate had been cleared for an even bigger show — a full state visit to India by President Kennedy.

On her last full day here Mrs. Kennedy exchanged presents with Prime Minister Nehru and in the evening attended a reception and dinner in the elegant gold and white U.S. Embassy chancery.

She gave Nehru a silver-framed photograph of herself and President Kennedy, signed by both and bearing a personal message from Mrs. Kennedy. What the message said was not known.

Carpet, Books

Nehru in turn gave Mrs. Kennedy a carpet, a miniature painting and 12 books on Indian arts and culture.

For the embassy party — her last formal appearance— the First Lady wore a sweeping, long evening coat of white peau de soie over a dress with a full white satin skirt and a currant jelly red chiffon top, embroidered with beads.

It was made by American designer Oleg Cassini, who did most of her wardrobe for the Indian trip.

With A Rose

Mrs. Kennedy spent about 20 minutes at the reception greeting many of the 600 guests. She was escorted by the tall ambassador, John Kenneth Galbraith, in a white dinner jacket with a tea rose in the buttonhole.

Later she made a dramatic entrance into the chancery dinner, walking up the broad entrance stairway into a floodlit scene of pools and fountains. There were 40 guests. India's vice president, Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, sat at her right and Prime Minister Nehru at her left.

Ambassador Nehru, who served as something of an escort and sight-seeing guide for Mrs. Kennedy, said he never expected the enormous crowds that turned out to see her, especially in out of the way areas.

The 9-day trip was tiring, Nehru said. And, he reported, Mrs. Kennedy was tired too.

Before returning to New Delhi Tuesday Mrs. Kennedy spent two days in Jaipur where she had a chance to rest, ride an elephant, see a polo match and enjoy the hospitality at the sprawling palace of her host, the Maharaja of Jaipur.

When she left Jaipur she gave a kiss on the cheek to the broad shouldered 6 foot maharaja, saying "goodbye, Jai, (his nickname). Thanks for everything."

Liquor Commission Invokes Stiff Penalty

The State Liquor Control Commission Tuesday handed down one of the severest penalties in recent months by suspending the package liquor license of Steve Yagadich, Mullen, for 40 days.

Yagadich was charged with 4 separate counts of allowing beer to be sold to minors on his premises.

He had waived public hearing and entered a plea of guilty to the violations.

The suspension will begin on April 3.

Kenneth Beeney . . . dire forecast

Erie, Kan., Is Still Intact Despite Doom Prophecy

Erie, Kan. (AP) — This city remained intact Tuesday despite a prophecy that it would be destroyed along with its 1,300 residents—give or take a few.

The man who told of the prophecy, Kenneth L. Beeney Sr., would like to take 9 of the population and leave what he says is a doomed city, but he can't. Beeney, a handyman, is in the county jail, charged with contributing to the truancy of two of his daughters —Verla, 13, and Letha Faye, 6 — whom he took out of school.

Beeney's wife, 6 children and their grandmother are camped near the jail in two automobiles, all packed and ready to flee when and if Beeney is released.

"God has told us the family will not be separated and we aren't worried," Mrs. Beeney said. Beeney, in jail, echoed his wife's optimism for the family but he has nothing but a prophecy of doom for the city.

The dire message came from God to two daughters, Judy, 19, and Patricia, 16, says Beeney, member of a non-denominational faith. He says the girls have the gift of prophecy.

The family weathered a heavy rainstorm Tuesday, piling into one of the cars to keep dry. A man came by and gave them a $10 bill which was used to buy milk, bread, meat and "some candy bars for energy."

The family packed and left their home last Thursday. A friend takes care of the family cow and brings them their mail.

Authorities are trying to figure out what further legal action they should take. State law requires that children remain in school until they are 16 or graduate from the 8th grade.

Robert H. Krieger, superintendent of schools, expressed regret that the children aren't getting an education.

"The children are above average and we have no disciplinary problem," Krieger said.

But while he expressed regret at the plight of the children, the Beeney family was concerned only for the town and its people.

They have mailed 164 letters to the townspeople, telling of the messages they say they got from God.

On Feb. 17, Beeney said, this prophecy came:

"They are a stubborn and rebellious people, ignoring the voice of the Lord. I will destroy them."

And on March 3, he said, came the clincher:

"Take a few belongings and have them ready, for you must flee quickly."

Mrs. Alexander Dies In Lincoln

Mrs. Harold Alexander, 48, of 800 S. 47th, wife of a Lincoln real estate and insurance agency owner, died Tuesday.

A Lincoln resident since 1949, she was a member of Trinity Methodist Church and Electa Chapter No. 8, Order of Eastern Star.

Survivors include her husband, a son, Harold Jr. of Lincoln, and two grandchildren.

Had Chapel Service

CAPT. AND MRS. PETER J. VOGEL

At a 4 o'clock ceremony solemnized on Sunday, March 4, Lt. Gerda L. Link, USMC, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Link of Long Beach, Calif., became the bride of Capt. Peter J. Vogel, USMC, son of Mrs. R. V. Montgomery and of George Vogel of Lincoln. The lines of the service were read by Chaplain R. E. Elliott in the chapel of the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station, San Diego, Calif.

The matron of honor and her sister's only attendant was Mrs. Richard P. Westergard of Long Beach, Calif.

Capt. H. A. Trickey served as best man, and seating the guests were Capt. D. H. Anderson, Capt. E. A. Homer, Capt. O. M. Diaz, and Lt. J. M. Kater. Maj. R. B. Haines commanded members of the bridegroom's unit, the Marine Fighter Squadron 334, who formed a sword arch for the recessional.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the El Toro Officers Club.

The couple will reside at Santa Ana, Calif. The bride is serving with the El Toro communications center, and Capt. Vogel is a Marine Corps fighter pilot.

Among the guests attending the wedding were Capt. Vogel's sisters, Miss Marabel Vogel and Miss Georgia Vogel, both of Anaheim, Calif., and Mrs. Richard Westwood, Riverside, Calif., all formerly of Lincoln.

Dear Abby

You Walk—Be Glad

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Now that skirts are being worn above the knees, I have a problem which I can no longer hide. I am knock-kneed. You have never seen such big, bony, ugly knock-knees! Someone told me that an orthopedic surgeon could do wonders for me. It would mean breaking both my legs and removing some of the bone and cartilage. I know it would be expensive and probably painful for a while, but I would do anything for a pair of nice-looking legs. I am no kid. I am 29.

KNOCK-KNEED

DEAR KNOCK-KNEED: If I were to tell you about some of the youngsters I have seen this month in Easter Seal hospitals, who would "give anything for a pair of healthy limbs," you would blush with shame. Any attempts to improve your legs through surgery at your age would be risky and, in my opinion, foolish. Thank heavens you can walk! Wear your skirts longer.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Could you please tell me what the superstitions are about moving? By this I mean, which days are lucky and which are unlucky for me? Someone once told me that because I was born in July under the sign of Cancer it was bad luck to move on a Tuesday. I also heard that if I didn't have a loaf of bread and a box of salt in my new home before I moved in I would have bad luck there. I would appreciate any information on this subject from you or anyone else who knows. Do you believe in superstitions?

SUPERSTITIOUS

DEAR SUPER: Many people have great faith in both superstitions and the horoscope. But not I. I touched wood only once, when I hit a tree. That brought me bad luck immediately.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have been a widow for 9 years and have met a fine widower. He has been courting me for 3 years. I have no children and his are married. Would you kindly let me know if it is proper for him to pick me up at my home? My mother says I should meet him on the outside somewhere because I live alone and she is afraid people will talk if they see him in the hall or near my door. I am 41 years old.

THE QUESTION

DEAR QUESTION: Your friend should call for you at your door and see you to your door when he brings you home. I am all for girls listening to their mothers, but yours is way off the beam and at 41 you are no longer a girl.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TALK OF THE TOWN

As a matter of fact we almost ran out of newsy conversation this morning — Almost, but not quite.

There is a rumor afloat that a stag line would be just the ticket for the 100 Club dinner dance on Saturday evening. It would seem that there is what might be termed a conflict of interest on that particular evening. Saturday night also is the Sigma Alpha Epsilon banquet — and since the 100 Club membership includes a number of Sig Alphs and their wives it leaves the banquet widows with a problem. We did learn, however, that the gals have a solution — They are going to the 100 Club party, sans husbands.

The fraternity is not completely without consideration, however. On Friday evening the wives are included when the Sig Alphs entertain at the Lincoln Country Club.

Mention of Friday night reminds us that the Lincoln Community Playhouse production, "The Glass Menagerie" opens on that evening, and that following the first night performance there is to be a snack supper for the members of the board, the cast, and guests.

For the run of the play the intermission coffee hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Lou Sommerhauser, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Winton Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moomaw, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sconyers, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Tice, Mr. and Mrs. Don Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Foules, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Waldron, Mr. and Mrs. O'Dell Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Reentz, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Longman.

Incidentally — Friday night's "snak" supper hosts and hostesses will be Dr. and Mrs. William E. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dalton and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Martin.

Back home again are Dr. and Mrs. Harold Maude and their two children, Susan and Peter, who returned last week end from a three weeks trip to the west coast. The travelers went first to San Diego where they visited some old friends. After San Diego a drive up the coast to Los Angeles where they spent several days and where the high spot for Susan and Peter was Disneyland. Then on to the north to Palo Alto, where the foursome visited Mrs. Maude's brother, Don Pedersen, and in to the San Francisco area.

As you may already know, the marriage of Miss Louise Elizabeth French, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Merton French of Topeka, Kan., to John Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry will take place in Korab Chapel in Crete on Saturday morning, March 31.

Miss Sarah French will be her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, and Thomas Perry will serve his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. French will preside at a wedding luncheon at Hotel Cornhusker.

Annual Dance

The members of the Delta Zeta sorority at Nebraska Wesleyan University will hold their annual Rose Formal on Friday evening in the ballroom of the Hotel Cornhusker. A 6:30 o'clock dinner will precede the dance, during which the "Ideal Couple" will be revealed.

Blue Bird Fashions

Getting spring off to a good start on Sunday — and, incidentally, celebrating national Camp Fire Girls Birthday Week, March 18-24 — were the Blue Birds of District II who entertained at a mother-daughter tea and fashion show at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Among the winsome models was Miss Christi Shaw, showing the latest in beach wear for the sub-sub-teen set.

Guests, Travelers, In Suburbia

Spring certainly is in the air as well as on the official weather books because suburbia residents have been so busy out and about the last few days we are having trouble catching up on all the news.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

Recently returned from a trip to the southeastern states are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Colin, who left Lincoln the last week of January.

Original plans included a drive down to Miami, and a weekend cruise to Nassau and the Bahamas aboard the SS Bahama Star.

As it turned out, the Collins first visited longtime friends, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bearden of Aurora, Ill., who have a winter home in Sarasota. The foursome decided to visit Nassau together and enjoyed their tour of the islands so well, that the trip was extended an extra week.

After returning to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Colin vacationed in Miami, and touring southern Florida. They returned to Lincoln Wednesday, March 14.

We learned that Lincoln has had several out-of-state visitors this past week. As you may know, Greeley College in Greeley, Colo. is on the quarter system and Wednesday, March 14, was the beginning of the spring break from classes. Greeley freshmen, Miss Joyce Dalby and Miss Mary Forrest arrived in Lincoln Wednesday for their vacation and brought with them classmates Miss Carole Fisher of Boston, Mass. and Miss Carol Dorsey and Miss Barbara Larkin, both of Denver, Colo.

After a tour of the town which included a visit to the State Capitol, and a trip to Omaha, the fivesome returned to Greeley and classes on Monday, March 19.

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Dalby and Mary is the daughter of Mrs. Albert Held.

Heading for Ohiowa this Friday will be Mr. and Mrs. Duane Sieckmann and their two daughters, Vicky and Jane, who will be the weekend houseguests of Mrs. Sieckmann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Schroll.

Included in the weekend trip will be a visit to Columbus on Sunday for a family dinner honoring Mr. Schroll on his birthday, at the home of Mrs. Sieckmann's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Schroll. The Sieckmann family will return to Lincoln Sunday night.

Also in the news of the Sieckmann household, we learned that Mr. Sieckmann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sieckmann of El Dorado, Kan., were visitors in Lincoln last week end. They returned home to Kansas Sunday afternoon.

We learned that there was a small informal gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Sample Sunday afternoon, March 4. The occasion was a welcome home for Mrs. Sample, who had just returned from a three-week convalescence in the hospital.

PARK MANOR

Understand that there was quite a session of duplicate bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Shaw in Park Manor, on Saturday evening, March 10. During the evening a dessert supper was served.

Completing the five tables were Mr. and Mrs. William Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. James Rohlfs, Mr. and Mrs. Max Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. James Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Withers, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson, Maj. and Mrs. Ron Fox, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Monson.

COTNER TERRACE

A lass who became a member of Cotner Terrace's nursery set last week is young Miss Sheri Sue Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Swanson, who made her debut at Lincoln General Hospital at exactly 5:05 o'clock, Wednesday morning, March 14. Sheri and her mother came home to their Cotner Terrace home on Monday.

Sheri is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Jacobsen and Mr. and Mrs. Russell V. Swanson of Ceresco. In addition, Sheri's great-grandmother, Mrs. Anna Swanson, also resides in Ceresco and we understand that there have been more than a few trips to Lincoln this week for a visit with the young lass.

Also, not to be forgotten in the list of great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Travis.

Understand that there was a small dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Hidy last Friday evening. Guests of honor at the dinner were Dr. and Mrs. Tony Bronchi of Kansas City, Kan. Also present at the Hidy home for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Fiene, who were the Bronchis' host and hostess for their weekend visit in Lincoln.

BSP Officers

Delta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, elected Mrs. Leo Whitson president of the group at its regular meeting last Thursday evening, at the home of Mrs. Whitson.

Other new officers of the chapter are Mrs. Victor Starkey, vice president; Mrs. Robert Lind, recording secretary; Mrs. Daniel Sherrick, corresponding secretary; Miss Jane Wachtel, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Hatcher, council alternate; and Mrs. Lawrence Welsh, member advisor.

Mrs. Sherrick also was chosen as the chapter's candidate for the sorority's Girl Of The Year.

Following a program on, "Artist's Landscapes", plans were discussed for visiting the chapter's "adopted" ward at the Lincoln State Hospital.

Mrs. Jerry Ayers was a guest for the evening.

Why Grow Old?

For Hip Problems

Josephine Lowman

Even with correct weight, you can have a problem with bulges at the back hip line. Rolling from side to side in this position will help.

That hippy question is always with us! Letter after letter which comes to me will say, "I have a perfect figure except that my back hips stick out like a shelf," or, "I have pads of fat at the back of my upper hips, just below my waistline. My skirts look like they are padded. Otherwise, I have a good hipline."

Even when a woman is the correct weight, she may have special figure problems. Her weight may not be attractively distributed. I remember one woman I had in a reducing class who was not a pound overweight, and yet she had to exercise constantly in order to keep her abdomen flat. Otherwise, she looked as though she were pregnant.

Today, let me give you an exercise for the hips and thighs. Sit on the floor with your knees bent, your toes pointing to the left and your weight on your right hip. Place your fingertips on the floor at your sides for balance. Now lift your knees and turn them so that your weight rests on your left hip and your toes point to the right. Continue, changing from side to side.

Do the following exercise for those little pads of fat in the back just below the waistline. Stand with the feet widely separated (as far as you can comfortably). Raise the arms overhead. Bend to the left and grasp your left ankle with your hands. Push down toward your foot. Lift trunk and raise arms to overhead position. This time bend to the right and grasp the right ankle with your hands and push down. Raise trunk, and arms go back to overhead position. Continue, alternating left and right. Do this exercise slowly.

If you would like to have my tested, hip-slimming exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Lincoln Star.

Opening lead — jack of hearts.

The Blackwood convention is valuable chiefly because it permits the discovery of specific rather than general values.

For example, in this hand, when North responds two notrump (13 to 15 points), South is desirous of knowing whether North's hand includes two aces and a king. South intends to bid a grand slam in this case.

After he learns from the five heart response that North has the necessary two aces, South then discovers that North has no kings. So he settles for a small slam, since it would be poor policy to bid a grand slam knowing that the king of spades is missing.

West leads a heart and South sees that even the small slam is in some kind of danger. It is possible for West to have two trump tricks (he may have the K-J-x or K-J-x-x of spades).

But declarer cannot play the hand on the supposition that this is the case. He must play on the basis that the contract can be made and devote his efforts to dealing only with those hands the defenders might have that render the contract makable.

Accordingly, he wins the heart and plays the ace of spades. Fortunately, in this hand, he catches the king, and this then permits him to enter dummy to lead a spade and finesse the ten to make all the tricks.

The play of the ace is by no means just a lucky shot. It is a safety play that guarantees the contract if it is possible to make it. It protects against East's having been dealt K-J-x-x, K-J-x, K-x-x, J-x-x, K-J, K-x, J-x, x-x, or the singleton king or jack.

If declarer were to start by finessing the queen and lost to the king, he might run into a difficult guess later when he led another spade from dummy and East followed low. South would then have to decide whether West had started with the K-J alone or the singleton king. This unpleasant situation is avoided by using the safety play.

Marriage Solemnized

In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, Miss Sharon Hemsath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hemsath, became the bride of Leroy Shearer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shearer, on Saturday evening, March 17,. The 7 o'clock service was selemnized at St. Paul's Evangelical Church by the Rev. Arthur G. Crisp.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Galort Hemsath, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

For her wedding, the bride wore a costume suit in navy blue with beige trim, and matching navy accessories. A small feathered hat in navy completed her ensemble, and her corsage was fashioned of pink carnations.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the members of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Shearer will make their home temporarily in Lincoln.

Betrothal Announced

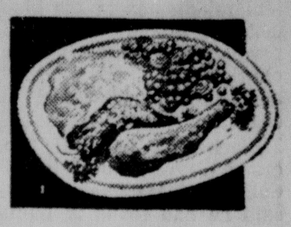

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kuna of Crete make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Aileen Janice, to Jack G. Graves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orren L. Graves of Lincoln.

The wedding is planned for Friday, March 30, and the ceremony will take place at the First-Plymouth Congregational Church in Lincoln.

Plan Dinner

The Women's Division of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce will meet for a 6 o'clock dinner next Wednesday at the Lincoln Telephone Bldg. Following the dinner, a program on "Urban Renewal" will be presented.

Scientist Jubilant Over Discovery Of Chemical Middleman In Blood-Clotting

Washington (AP)—A scientist reported discovery of a chemical middleman in the blood-clotting process that could revolutionize research of cerebral strokes, heart attacks and some blood vessel diseases.

Biochemist Walter H. Seegers of Wayne State University College of Medicine, Detroit, said he had found in human blood a previously overlooked clotting aid called "Autoprothrombin C." The development "promises to revolutionize the entire perspective of research on thrombosis and hemorrhagic disease," he said.

Thrombosis is the undesired process of blood-clotting inside a blood vessel. Such a clot feeding the brain can cause a stroke, and clotting inside a vessel feeding the heart can cause a coronary thrombosis, popularly known as a heart attack.

Hemorrhagic diseases, such as hemophilia, are those in which the blood fails to clot at times when it should—for example, in an open wound.

Seegers announced the discovery in a report made public by the American Chemical Society on the eve of its 141st national meeting.

He indicated that the newly noted chemical was found to be a kind of intermediary between "thrombin"—the material long known to be directly responsible for clotting—and a substance called "prothrombin" which is the ultimate precursor of the clotting process.

Seegers headed the research teams which isolated prothrombin in 1953, and thrombin in 1958.

He said the new material is so closely tied up with thrombin in the blood that that was undoubtedly the reason it has hitherto gone unnoticed.

Presence of the material in blood was first suspected last year by Dr. Hugon Kowarzyk and Dr. Ewa Marciniak in research at Wroclaw, Poland.

Marciniak later joined Seegers in a joint research project at Wayne University which led to the identification and isolation of the material. Like thrombin, it is an enzyme—a chemical that controls the speed of living processes.

SEWARD MAN'S CAR SMASHED TWICE

A 4-vehicle crash at 17th and Holdrege Tuesday evening resulted in two persons being injured, but the driver of the most damaged car (center), Herman Rolfsmeier, 61, of Seward, was not hurt, police said. His northbound car was first in collision with one driven by Richard A. Greenhalgh, 24, of 5245 Holdrege. He and a passenger, 29-year-old Stanley L. Lahm of 2333 No. 63rd, were treated at Lincoln General Hospital for minor cuts and bruises. Rolfsmeier's car then was in collision with one that slid on mud and gravel, police said, and driven by Barbara J. Martin, 21, of 4300 Holdrege. Greenhalgh's car caromed off Rolfsmeier's and struck a parked pick-up belonging to the Lincoln Dairy. It was loaded with 4 tons of skim milk. (Star Staff Photo)

Bill Tightening Pension Plans Policing Is Signed

Washington (UPI)—President Kennedy Tuesday signed a bill that tightened federal police powers over more than $60 billion in pension-welfare plans covering about 90 million Americans.

In signing the legislation that gave the Labor Department new authority over the plans, the President said it corrected a major weakness in earlier measures and was extremely important in protecting the funds of many workers.

The new law was first requested by former President Eisenhower shortly after Congress passed the 1958 Welfare and Pension Plan Reporting Act. Kennedy renewed the request and finally won its approval on his second try.

The 1958 act required administrators of pension plans to file financial reports with the Labor Department. But the reports could contain only general information and the department lacked authority to check their accuracy.

Under the new law, the department can send out investigators to check the books of reporting plans where there is any indication of mismanagement. The act also gives the department power to look for plans that have not submitted reports.

Through 1959, the department received reports from about 150,000 plans. But it has said that as many as 50,000 plans may not be reporting because of loopholes in the old law.

Accuse Ex-Marine In Life, Death Hoax

Riverhead, N.H. (AP) — A short, slight ex-Marine stood accused Tuesday of an amazing life and death hoax. Authorities said he collected relief under a legally adopted name, while reaping death benefits under his original name.

The veteran, Peter R. Sherry, 35, was said to have collected more than $40,000 in state and federal bounty during an 8 year masquerade.

On the one hand, he lived openly with his family in an apartment at Mount Sinai, a Long Island community, worked for a time, and finally ended up on state welfare rolls. He also sired 4 children, in addition to the one he began the masquerade with.

On the other hand, the federal government was honoring his family financially on the basis of a death certificate that listed him as a deceased war veteran.

"One of the most fantastic cases I have ever seen," said Suffolk County Dist. Atty. Bernard Smith.

Sherry, 35, was held in $2,500 bond on grand larceny charges brought by the state. His wife, Rosemary, 31, who came to court in bedroom slippers, was released without bond on the same charges. The 5 children, aged 2 to 12, were sent to foster homes.

Sherry served in the Marines in this country for 3 years, 1944-47, under his original name of Peter A. Bachulis. In 1951, he legally changed this name to Peter R. Sherry.

In 1953, authorities said, Sherry obtained a death certificate, easily available at the town clerk's office, filled it out under the name of Bachulis, forged the signature of a local doctor, and managed to have it filed. Cause of death was listed as heart failure.

Mrs. Sherry then began collecting federal benefits as a veterans' widow. District Attorney Smith said these included $10,000 in Veterans Administration life insurance, $63 a month in veterans family benefits, Social Security benefits for herself totaling $190.52 a month, and Social Security benefits for their eldest daughter, Rose, 12, of $38.10 a month.

The total family income, aside from the insurance, thus was $291.62 a month.

Meanwhile, Smith continued, Sherry went to work in 1956 for the Long Island Railroad as a substitute station clerk. When he lost this job, he went on relief in Suffolk County and it was welfare investigators who unmasked his financial secrets.

The specific charge against him under state law is of fraudulently obtaining $2,028 in home relief, while he had other sources of income. It carries a maximum penalty upon conviction of 10 years in prison.

PETER R. SHERRY

Federal agents also were expected to give the case their attention, because of the government payments involved.

'Scotch' Whiskey Gets 11 'In Dutch'

New York (AP) — A federal grand jury accused 11 persons Tuesday of conspiring to import 820,000 gallons of spurious scotch whiskey sold throughout the United States since 1953 for $20,500,000.

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said the whiskey was distilled in Holland and mislabeled as Scotch whiskey distilled and blended in Scotland.

Most of it was brought into the United States in barrels and sold to bottlers who labeled it under more than 200 private name brands, his office said. No big name brands were involved.

Places where it was sold included Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco, Morgenthau's office said.

Indicted on conspiracy charges were:

Harles Haim, 68, of New York City, described by federal authorities as an importer and ringleader of the group; Sidney Haim, 42, his son, of St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; Gladys Scheer, 47, Elmhurst, Queens, secretary to Charles Haim; Robert Konig, 45, of Schiedam, Holland; Goddard's, Lt., New York City and St. Thomas; Campania Scheffield, S.A., of New York and Panama City, Panama; National Securities Union, S.A., of the same two addresses; Firth Bonding Co.; Sheffield Distillers and Ardross Distillery, all of New York and London; and M. Cohn's Wine & Spirits Trading Co., Schiedam, Holland.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Daniel P. Hollman said the whiskey was blended and produced in a large distillery operated in Holland by the Cohn company, shipped from Rotterdam bearing labels indicating it was produced in Scotland, and false bills of lading represented the whiskey as being shipped from Scotland.

Charles Haim listed Sheffield, Firth and Ardross as having shipped the whiskey from Glasgow, Hollman said, and the two Haims and Miss Scheer prepared certificates of age and filed them with the New York collector of customs.

If convicted, each defendant could be sentenced to 5 years in prison and fined $10,000.

Field Work Confined To Southwest, Panhandle

Another week of severe winter weather confined field work to the extreme southwest and the Panhandle area last week, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

Elsewhere heavy snow accompanied by high winds and low temperatures caused considerable hardship for farmers in caring for livestock and taking care of the usual chores. Northeastern Nebraska counties were particularly hard hit by the blizzard.

In the western part of the state some field work was accomplished. The area is mostly free from snow and topsoil is becoming very dry. Winter wheat is beginning to green in some areas. High winds could cause wind erosion on light, sandy soils.

Winter barley has suffered some loss as low temperatures have caused more than the usual amount of winter kill. In the southern counties soil is very wet causing further delay in the harvest of some corn and sorghum. Field losses of corn are occurring with some ears showing mold.

Seeding of spring grains is expected to be much later than usual as the soil is saturated and will take some time to dry sufficiently for field work. This is particularly true in the northeastern part of the state. Usually about 5 to 10% of the spring grains are sown by this date.

Livestock suffered loss in condition from the severe winter weather of last week. Farmers and ranches experienced great difficulty in getting feed to cattle and taking care of new born calves.

Dates Set For Reservists' Matches

Omaha (AP)— Army reservists from Colorado, Kansas, Wyoming and Nebraska will compete in the second annual 16th Corps commanders matches at Fort Riley, Kan., and Fort Carson, Colo., March 31 and April 1.

The 164 reservists will be divided equally between the two posts. Teams from Colorado and Wyoming will fire at Carson and teams from Kansas and Nebraska at Riley.

Individual winners will be selected for 16th Corps teams which will participate in the 5th U.S. army rifle and pistol matches at Fort Riley, April 27-May 6.

160 Attend Clinic

Clarkson — The farmers clinic, sponsored by the Clarkson Bank, attracted about 160 farmers. A number of Future Farmers of America members were also present.

Clean Up Underway At Fonner

By TED TURPIN
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Grand Island — Despite huge drifts of melting snow, Fonner Park's race track here will be "in excellent condition for opening day."

That's the prediction of Al Swihart, manager of the track office that will begin its seasonal rush on April 5 — opening day.

Fonner Park, with Nebraska's only glass-enclosed grand stand, was hip-deep in snow this week. But men and machines worked busily to remove it and prepare the track and grounds for 8,000-person capacity crowd on opening day.

The track itself was cleared of snow March 17, and horses are now training daily in preparation for the inaugural, Swihart said.

The racing season at Fonner Park this year runs from April 5 through May 9. Post time is 3 p.m. on weekdays and 2 p.m. on Saturdays.

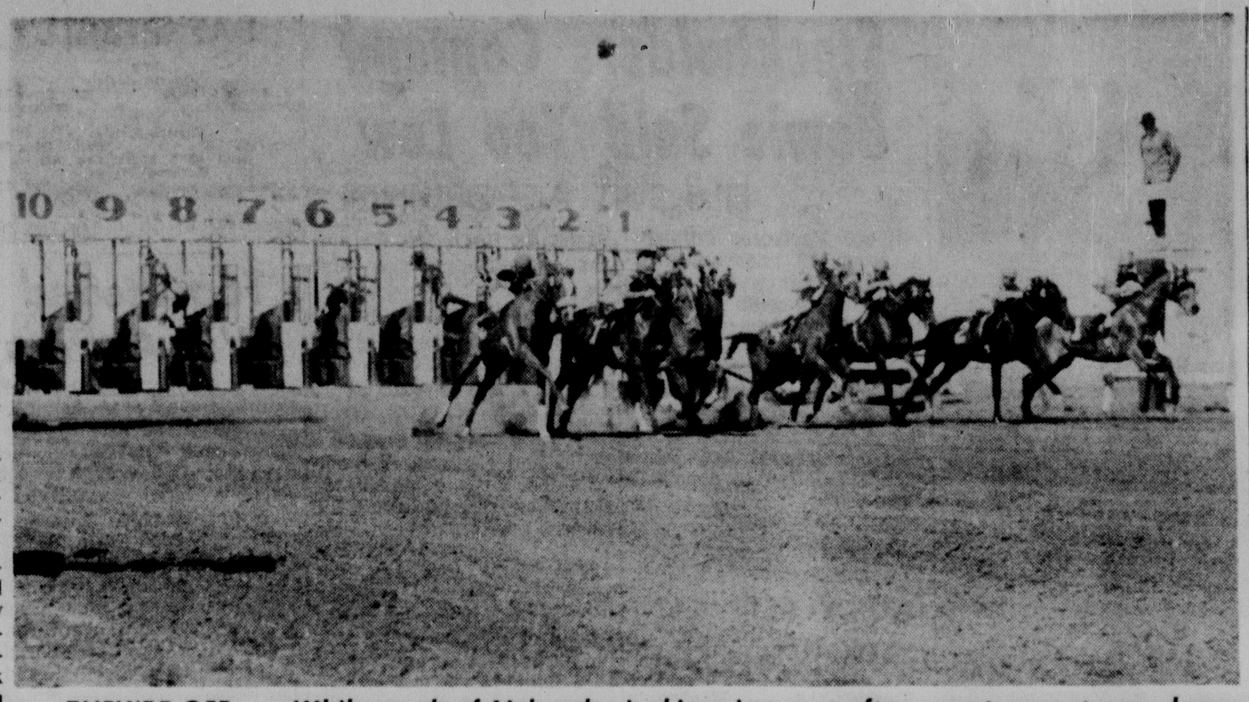

"There will be no racing on Good Friday — April 20," Swihart said, "but we'll have racing on our last Monday, May 7."

A new mezzanine addition to the grandstand will be opened this year, doubling the seating capacity. It also adds 53 more parimutuel windows, Swihart said.

Quality of horses scheduled to race at Fonner this year is "considerably better" than last season, the manager said. The minimum claiming price has been increased to $1,500 this year, a move designed to improve the quality of thoroughbreds raced there.

Purses this year will total $192,000, with the minimum purse now raised from $700 to $800.

Top races for the season will be the "Fonner Mile" on May 5 for a purse of $4,000, and the Fonner Park "Speed Handicap" on April 21 for a purse of $3,000.

THEY'RE OFF . . . While much of Nebraska is digging out after recent snowstorms, horse racing fans are thinking of sights such as this coming to Grand Island's Fonner Park.

Hook Says Redlegs Used Sign Stealing

. . . PLAYER STATIONED IN SCOREBOARD

Orlando, Fla. (AP)—Did Cincinnati win the National League pennant last year with the help of some cloak-and-dagger sign stealing?

Pitcher Jay Hook, a Redleg hurler last season who is now with the New York Mets, backed up reports that the National League champions had a man posted in the center field scoreboard at some home games to pick off signs flashed by opposing catchers.

The signs were reportedly telephoned to the Cincinnati dugout.

Reports that Cincinnati was using Brooks Lawrence, former Redleg pitcher who is now a scout, in the scoreboard role have been rampant this spring.

"I don't know exactly what games, but I do know that Brooks Lawrence was out there (in the scoreboard)," Hook said here, where the Mets were playing an exhibition game.

"It was common knowledge on our club. Other clubs were doing it at their home parks, too."

Hook said he suspected the Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee Braves.

"I didn't say anything about it, but now I'm on the Mets and I want to protect the Mets against that sort of thing. I think it's wrong," Hook said.

"The commissioner (Ford Frick) should see that a ruling is put in against it, and enforce it," Hook added. "A $10,000 fine would be a good idea."

Lawrence, told of Hook's remarks, flatly denied doing any scoreboard spying. Contacted in Dayton, Ohio, where he manages a bowling establishment, the former hurler, said, "this is the first time I ever heard of it."

Lawrence quipped, "they should have told me—maybe I could have got a cut from the World Series."

Until last winter there was no written rule against stealing signs with the aid of field glasses, but it has always been frowned on in the Majors.

Last winter, apparently reacting to reports about the Reds and others, National League president Warren Giles issued a warning that he would forfeit any games won with the aid of mechanical devices.

When Giles was general manager of the Cincinnati team, he reportedly suspected Leo Durocher, then manager of the New York Giants, of stationing a sign stealer in the clubhouse, which is in dead center field at the Polo Grounds.

Giles was reported to have acquired a key and opened the clubhouse door during a game but he did not find anyone, with or without binoculars.

In Clearwater, Fla., Cincinnati manager Fred Hutchinson said: "No comment. That's Hook's story. He's stuck with it."

Asked whether he would confirm or deny the Reds used a sign stealer, Hutchinson said: "No. No comment."

Mets Drop Sixth Straight; Yankees Take First Loss

. . . TWINS SPORT THREE IN A ROW

Orlando, Fla. (AP) — Bonus youngster Bernie Allen cracked a pair of wrong-field hits Tuesday to drive the Minnesota Twins to a 4-3 exhibition baseball victory over the New York Mets.

Allen, a lefthanded hitter bidding for the second base job, drove a single through the tight infield in the 6th to tie the game, then doubled to score Lamar Jacobs with the clincher in the 8th. Both hits were off loser Aubrey Gatewood.

Charley Neal homered off Jim Kaat in the 5th to give the Mets a 3-2 lead but Ted Sadowski held the New Yorkers hitless in the last 3 innings for the victory, the Twins' 3rd straight.

Harmon Killebrew drove in the Twins' first pair with a single off Jay Hook. The loss was the 6th straight for the National League Mets, now 3-7 in pre-season tests.

Yanks Lose First

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP) — The World Champion New York Yankees, who had won 9 straight games this spring, suffered their first loss — and gave away the ball game.

The Yankees committed 5 errors in a 14-inning 3-2 defeat at the hands of their former St. Petersburg playmates, the St. Louis Cardinals, and then lost in the 5th overtime inning through inability to make a routine double play.

After Julio Gotay walked and raced to 3rd on Bill White's 4th hit, Ken Boyer grounded to 3rd baseman Billy Gardner, who started an apparent inning-ending double play by way of second base. However, pivoting, Pedro Gonzalez threw wildly to first and Gotay scored.

Mays Sparkles

Palm Springs, Calif. (AP) — San Francisco's Willie Mays was the big noise as the Giants pounded out a 14-3 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

Mays socked two triples and a single and drove in 6 of the Giants' runs. The single was the most remarkable achievement of the game. Harvey Kuenn broke for second as Angel pitcher George Witt threw a high, tight one to Mays. From a falling down stance, Willie racked the ball into left for a single which brought Kuenn all the way home.

Chisox Win In 12th

Sarasota, Fla. (AP) — Nellie Fox' bases-loaded single over the head of right fielder Frank Howard with two out in the 12th inning enabled the Chicago White Sox to defeat the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1 here.

Fox got his hit off Ed Roebuck, the 4th and last Dodger pitcher who was in trouble because of poor fielder support. With a runner in scoring position and first base open Roebuck gave an intentional pass to pinch batter Joe Cunningham and then walked Bob Farley to load the bases and bring up Fox.

Early Wynn and Herb Score, both attempting comebacks, were the first two Chicago pitchers and were sharp. Wynn worked 3 innings, the first time he has been in an organized game since last July, and yielded only two hits. Score became the first Chicago pitcher to go 5 innings and was nicked for an unearned run in the 8th.

Reds Triumph, 14-13

Clearwater, Fla. (AP) — The National League champion Cincinnati Reds squeezed out a 14-13 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in a weird exhibition baseball game in which 22 runs were scored in the first 3 innings.

Going into the 4th ahead 12-10, Cincinnati was stopped by Chris Short. Short came on in the 3rd in relief of Dallas Green. He gave up a homer in the 4th to Tom Harper with one on, then faced only 12 batters. Green was slammed for 12 runs but 3 fielding errors hurt him as much as Cincinnati hitting.

Bosox Dump Indians

Tucson, Ariz. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox jumped Jim Perry for 3 runs in the 9th inning and handed Cleveland its 4th straight exhibition baseball defeat, 7-5.

Singles by Chuck Schilling, Bob Tillman, Carl Yastrzemski and Lou Clinton broke a 4-4 tie. Yastrzemski's hit broke the deadlock and Clinton's brought in two runs which became necessary when Willie Kirkland homered for the Tribe in the 9th.

The Red Sox tied the score in the 8th when catcher Harry Chiti, trying to pick Dalton Jones off 3rd, hit the batter, Ike DeLock, in the head.

The ball rolled off to the right of the plate and Jones scored. Delock was unhurt.

Boros Hits Knuckler

Lakeland, Fla. (AP) — Steve Boros belted a bases-loaded double off knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm with two outs in the 9th and chased in the tying and winning runs as the Detroit Tigers nipped the Baltimore Orioles 5-4 in an exhibition game.

Bros slammed a 3-1 pitch off the top of the left field fence after the Orioles had gone ahead 4-3 on an unearned run in the top of the 9th.

The ball bounced back onto the field, but couldn't be fielded before Jake Wood and Billy Bruton scampered in with the two runs.

Wood and Bruton had singled off reliever Wilhelm before he got Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito out. But Wilhelm walked batting champion Norm Cash intentionally as the Orioles decided it was safer to pitch to Boros.

Brooks Robinson put the Orioles ahead 3-2 in the 6th with a 3-run homer. But the Tigers tied it in the bottom of the 6th on Chico Fernandez's homer.

The Braves, who have dropped 6 of their last 7 starts, got only two hits, one a homer by Hank Aaron. They were held hitless until the 7th.

Dave Wickersham pitched the first 4 innings for the Athletics, Dan Osinski hurled the next 4 and Diego Segui pitched the 9th.

The A's hammered out 11 hits, including a two-run homer by Bob Del Greco and a solo homer by Bill Bryan.

Ahead Of Schedule

Last fall and particularly after the Orange Bowl game, Sonny Grandelius was quick to point out that "football isn't everything in life" and "I'm not going to coach forever."

The Colorado football coach made no bones about his future plans, repeating several times: "I'm going to coach through 1966, then retire."

Sonny, a 29-year-old boy wonder when he arrived in Boulder to succeed Dal Ward 3 years ago, has realized his early retirement dreams, but hardly in the manner which he planned.

Colorado's Regents fired Grandelius when the school got caught by the NCAA for alleged (and admitted) recruiting violations.

At first glance, the unprecedented ouster appeared to be an admirable action by an outraged institution which had suffered indignities.

"Morality" was being upheld as the Regents declared they would not tolerate "dishonesty."

Real Reasons?

But was this the case? Or was Grandelius sacked because he had made some enemies in high places?

I don't pretend to know the answers, but there are a number of things that indicate there's more to the Grandelius case than is immediately apparent.

—Capable Dal Ward was fired without warning by the Regents, obviously for not winning (beating Oklahoma, that is). Sonny was hired to win and did—but got fired. Ward had many die-hard followers who resented Grandelius from the start and Sonny didn't help matters by carping at them publicly for backing Ward. Doubtless many Ward-ites (I don't infer Dal was involved in any way) are chortling at the turn of events.

—The Regents sent a letter to the coaches last year ordering them not to break rules, providing themselves an "out" in case the need arose—and it did.

—The vote was 5 (Democrats) to 1 (Republican).

—While there have been rumblings of discontent and disenchantment in the Flatiron country, all hands enjoyed the Miami outing and solid opposition to Sonny didn't become loud until after the Buffs took gas in the Orange Bowl.

The reaction to Sonny's firing by two assistants indicate (1) something has been brewing for a long time or (2) they haven't heard about loyalty to the boss.

CU assistant Bob Ghiloti reportedly was in line to become Sonny's successor, perhaps on an interim basis. His remarks are interesting: "It's, of course, a regrettable situation all the way around, but it's a start at solving our problem. It cleared the situation as far as the school is concerned and I think it's a bold and unprecedented step . . . It is clear that the school did an outstanding job on the investigation . . ."

Another aide, Chuck Boerio, was quoted as saying, "I don't think there is any question but that this precedent will help collegiate athletics. So many schools have evaded these issues and sat back doing nothing. CU took a firm stand and did the right thing."

Geronimo!

It is obvious Ghiloti and Boerio aren't sticking with a sinking ship, and reports filter in that Sonny's aides have been irked at him for some time.

Chances are that Colorado, nabbed by the NCAA, is copping a plea in hopes of a lighter sentence. There is no doubt, either, that CU's football program will be damaged by this hassle. However, purists can rightfully claim that it was more seriously damaged by dishonesty.

The whole Colorado story isn't out yet, but at the moment there is a suspicion that Sonny Grandelius made a host of enemies who simply sided with the school instead of the individual when trouble hit.

At least, the case has more the air of a Sherlock Holmes' intrigue than moral triumph at this point. It will be interesting to see what the real facts are, if and when they are available.

—VALUED AT 4 MILLION—

DeWitt Trying To Buy Cincinnati Reds' Club

Cincinnati (AP) — President Bill DeWitt of the Cincinnati Redlegs said he had started negotiations to buy the National League baseball champs.

He said he had considered the idea of buying the team since taking over the general manager's job Nov. 2, 1960.

DeWitt said he would have partners if the club were sold, but said he couldn't name them at this time.

The club's value has been estimated at about $4 million, under value of stock sold more than a year ago by the former general manager, Gabe Paul.

Since the death last year of Powel Crosley Jr., his majority share in the club—over 90 per cent of the stock—has been owned by the Crosley Foundation, a non-profit organization created under Crosley's will.

His daughter, Mrs. Stanley E. Kess, is president of foundation trustees.

His will also urged the trustees to retain the team in Cincinnati, as he had done using his own funds when times were hard for the Redlegs.

DeWitt, here for a one-day visit from spring training at Tampa, Gla., said that if he was successful in purchasing the Reds, he would keep them in Cincinnati.

DeWitt said he believed privately that a charitable group like the Crosley Foundation should have its investments in businesses less subject to fluctuation than a baseball team.

He said the purchase talks have been going on for a long time, but are still in the primary stage.

There was no comment immediately from Mrs. Kess.

However, former manager Paul, now with the Cleveland Indians, said last year:

"I happen to know Mr. Crosley left the Reds in such good shape there should be no reason to sell the club.

"It is on a solid financial basis, and I see no danger to the future of baseball in Cincinnati. The club is in very good hands."

Fire Finally Halted Fairbury Golfers

. . . SNOW, WIND, OR SLEET DIDN'T HAMPER SPIRITS

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Fairbury — Winter's worst had tried and failed, but flames finally did stop this town's weather-or-not golfers.

For at least 6 years, a hardy clan of Fairbury Country Clubbers had putted through rain and sleet and snow to keep intact their record of playing every month. Then came a fire which destroyed their $50,000-plus club house — and the golf sets of more than 75 members.

"Some of us had played when snowdrifts were two feet deep, but without clubs we were really out in the cold," explained Deb Babcock, unofficial leader of the unofficial group.

A weather diary he has kept tells of a foursome one year which braved a temperature of 17 degrees. Painting the balls has helped fairway searches on snowy week ends, but even this offered no protection from wind-driven sleet.

"Lots of times I've played with earmuffs on," recalled P. M. Bouquet. "They're OK for weather but a little tough on conversation."

Other accessories to conventional equipment have included mittens and overshoes and mackinaws. With such necessary aids to comfort, below-freezing rounds have often been played on several successive week ends.

Other warm-blooded regulars have included Howard Preston, Harvey Rempel, Charlie Stevenson, Johnny Jones, Homer Mudge and Ray Lindekugel. Dean Campbell and Howard Leonard were forced to withdraw recently when they left the community.

Since most of the lost sets were covered by individuals' insurance, new clubs are arriving to permit resumption of the series. Their brightness will be appropriate for a new $75,000 to $85,000 club house planned for construction this summer.

"No doubt about it, Fairbury will soon have the best-clubbed and best-shoed and best-shirted course in the state," predicted one official.

Meanwhile, several of the all-for-anything linksmen exposed themselves to anticipated kidding by being photographed trying pool equipment. Used to being laughed at for their year-round antics, they did draw the line at hairy-chested reality.

"Ordinarily I play without a shirt in any weather, but my wife said not for any picture," said short-sleeved Babcock. "Then she added something about people thinking I was crazy!"

Revenge–Password In NCAA Matches

... DEACONS AND BUCKEYES

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Ohio State and Wake Forest move into the semifinals of the NCAA tournament Friday night with the same thought in mind: revenge.

Wake Forest wants to avenge a defeat the Buckeyes hung on the Deacons earlier this season. State, on the other hand, is anxious for another shot at Cincinnati, which took the national crown from the Bucs last year in an overtime.

Cincinnati's opponent in the other semifinal will be UCLA, the Big 5 Conference champion.

Waiting for the winners is a place in Saturday night's championship game before a sellout crowd of more than 18,000 in Freedom Hall.

Wake Forest comes into Louisville with a 21-8 record and a promise to improve its showing against the Buckeyes.

In the first meeting, Wake Forest hit only 33 per cent of its shots and All America Len Chappell was held to 15 points, his lowest this season.

The credit for stopping Chappell goes to State's John Havlicek whom, the fans claim, is "always moving, circling. You don't know where he is. You might go up to the moon, and he's up their waiting for you."

Coach Fred Taylor said his team will be at its peak this weekend for the battle with Wake Forest.

"We're out of school and will be able to concentrate on basketball. We won't practice any more than usual, but the players won't have any distractions." State is between semesters this week.

Ohio State now has a 25-1 mark for the season.

UCLA had to get off the floor to fight its way into the tournament. The Bruins lost 7 of their first 11 games then captured 14 of their next 16 for a record of 18-9.

They don't have exceptional height to throw at Cincinnati but coach Johnny Wooden figures he doesn't need it. "We've come this far and we'd like to have a part in seeing that there's a new champion."

Cincinnati, with a 27-2 record, is already at its peak, says coach Ed Jucker.

"We're an entirely different club than last year, even though we have 3 back from the starting lineup."

Although no tickets are available, local fans won't be disappointed — they'll get to see the games on television.

Coffeyville Impressive In JC Meet

Hutchinson, Kan. (AP)—Coffeyville, Kan., the Kansas Champion, looked like the team to beat following the first day's play Tuesday in the National Junior College basketball tournament.

Coffeyville handled its first-round opponent, Bethany Lutheran of Mankato, Minn., with ease, 84-61. It was Coffeyville's 29th straight victory.

Young Harris, Ga., brought a string of 30 victories to the tournament but was beaten 74-58 by Moberly, Mo. McCoy McLemore of Moberly scored 26 points. This is Moberly's 11th tournament appearance. It has been national champion twice, in 1954 and 1955.

Lon Morris of Jacksonville, Tex., dropped the New York City Community College of Brooklyn 64-53 in another first-round game. Dennis Watson scored 26 for Brooklyn, Jerry Wade 21 for the winners.

Despite a 25-point performance by Richard Rishel, the Creston, Iowa, Bears lost to Flint, Mich., 71-63, in an afternoon game. Pat Manley scored 21 for Flint.

In another afternoon game, Fort Smith, Ark., edged Lincoln, Ill., 68-67 on Pat Martin's last-second field goal that hung on the lip of the basket, then dribbled in. It was Martin's only field goal.

Fort Smith trailed by as much as 18 points, and was behind 12 at the half. Tom Flynn of Lincoln scored 28 points. Jim Bob Weir of Fort Smith had 24.

Wednesday's pairings (all times eastern standard):

St. John's To Meet Duquesne In Semis

New York (AP) — St. John's of New York swept by Holy Cross 80-74 and Duquesne toppled Bradley 88-85 Tuesday night to gain semi final berths in the 25th National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

Tuesday night's winners meet in Thursday night's semifinals, which also match Loyola of Chicago against Dayton.

St. John's, patiently working for the good shots, broke it open behind limber Leroy Ellis in the second half. The fast and graceful 6-10 pivot scored almost at will as the Redmen rambled after intermission. He also monopolized the boards.

Ellis had 29 points, 21 in the second half, and nabbed 11 rebounds. Holy Cross' quick-shooting Jack Foley was ably contained by Willie Hall until St. John's had it safely put away.

Foley was virtually the entire crusader offense in the second half and totaled 35 points.

For St. John's it was a workman-like victory. The Redman displayed all-around skills but mostly it was their ability to count on their openings that proved the difference.

They took charge early, had a 39-31 lead at the half and Holy Cross was able to make it respectable only with a too-late spree.

St. John's, the New York powerhouse with a 20-4 record, impressed a Madison Square Garden crowd of 16,368 with a flashy 62 per cent mark on its field goal attempts, hitting 34 of 55. Ellis was 13 of 19.

Foley, who is the nation's second highest scorer behind Utah's Billy McGill, clocked on 16 of 35 attempts from the field and three of five from the foul line. Overall, Holy Cross was 31 of 66 from the field.

The Crusaders finished with a 20-6 record.

Sophomore Willy Somerset keyed a thrilling second half for Duquesne's tenacious Dukes, who at one point led by as many as 14 points but did not put it away until the closing moments.

Somerset, a muscular 5-10 flash, scored 20 of his 28 points in the second half and time and again broke the back of a Bradley rally.

He and his sharpshooting teammates actually clinched it at the foul line. In the second half the Dukes hit a spectacular 20 for 20 free throws.

With two time All-America Chet Walker putting on a one man show that carried Bradley to within 3 points, 86-83, with 1:04 remaining, the game that had once appeared a Duquesne runaway became a cliffhanger.

Walker finished with 36 points.

But the two teams took turns losing the ball in the next few seconds and with just 10 second left Mike Rice zeroed in two foul shots and the Dukes were home.

Lab Tests Show Horse Stimulated

Miami, Fla. (AP) —Gulfstream park stewards suspended trainer Luis D'Casseries after receiving a laboratory report showing a horse he trained had been stimulated.

The horse, Filtrado, finished second in the 9th race at Gulfstream March 13. The 6-year-old is owned by J. E. Jimenez.

The official report from the State Racing Commission laboratory found the drugs 'ritalin' and 'azium' in Filtrado's urine specimen taken after the race.

D'Casseries also was charged with possession of a hypodermic syringe and needles.

Stockholders Contend Bowie Sold Too Low

... FILE SUIT ACCORDINGLY

Upper Marlboro, Md. (AP)—A group of minority stockholders, who contend Bowie Race Course could have been sold for a higher price, filed suit against the former owners Tuesday in Prince Georges county circuit court.

Four owners of about 2,500 shares in the southern Maryland Agricultural Association asked the court to appoint 3 disinterested persons to appraise the track "for the purpose of setting a true value on our stock."

The court gave the defendants 20 days in which to file a reply.

Bowie, one of 3 major thoroughbred tracks in Maryland, was sold to Patino Mines and Enterprises Consolidated, Inc., of Canada, for $5 million shortly before the current meeting opened Feb. 9.

"I'm firmly convinced that $5 million was not a fair price for the Bowie track and I believe $9.98 per share was not a fair price for our stock," said Samuel R. Zetzer of Baltimore, one of the minority stock-holders. "Therefore, we refused payment."

Joining Zetzer in the move to secure a higher price for their holdings are his wife, Helen, the Sterling Trust Corporation and Stanley-Schurhardt, Inc.

Zetzer said he believes Bowie was sold for about one-half of its value.

"The going rate of property in the track's location, where the Bel Air Estates were recently developed, the property of the plant alone is worth close to $4 million, he said.

—Also, we plan to prove from the figures provided by the Southern Maryland Agricultural Association itself that the racing dates to Bowie are worth another $4 million."

"The only thing I can figure out," Zetzer said, "is that the new owners plan to liquidate the track in a year or two and thereby make a quick and enormous profit."

NADY, JENKINS APPLY FOR CU GRID POSITION

Denver (AP) — Montana's Ray Jenkins and Gary Nady, coach at Parsons College in Iowa, have applied for the head football coaching job at the University of Colorado, The Denver Post said Tuesday.

Colorado is seeking a coach to succeed Everett (Sonny) Grandelius, fired last Saturday for violating NCAA recruiting rules.

Nady was a member of Colorado's 1957 Orange Bowl team and, in two seasons at the little Iowa College, his teams have lost only one regular season game.

Nady was married until recently to the former Marilyn Van Derbur, Miss America of 1958. They are divorced.

Top-Seeded Win At Peru

Peru — The 3 top-seeded teams moved into tonight's semifinal round with two victories each Tuesday in the Peru State College high school girls invitational volleyball tournament.

Avoca, seeded No. 1, moved up with wins over Shubert and Stella. Second-seeded Dawson-Verdon took wins over Table Rock and Douglas, while No. 3 seeded Falls City Sacred Heart dumped Sterling and Lewiston.

The tourney's 4th-seeded club, Bradshaw was eliminated by Dunbar in second-round action. Dunbar was then beaten by the tourney's darkhorse, Adams.

Today's semifinal schedule has Avoca meeting Falls City Sacred Heart at 3 p.m. with Dawson-Verdon taking on Adams at 4 o'clock. The losers will meet for 3rd place at 7 p.m. and winners will tangle for the championship at 8 p.m.

SECOND ROUND

Avoca defeated Shubert 134, 15-3; Stella defeated Endicott 13-5, 9-6; Falls City SH defeated Sterling 8-6; 8-6; Lewiston defeated Table Rock 6-8, 15-0, 11-6; Douglas defeated Prague 15-0, 13-6; Dunbar defeated Bradshaw 7-10; 9-3, 10-0; Adams defeated Murdock 8-3, 9-3.

QUARTERFINALS

Avoca defeated Stella 8-6, 12-5; Falls City SH defeated Lewiston 9-6, 7-4; Dawson-Verdon defeated Douglas 5-1, 8-6; Adams defeated Dunbar 9-5, 10-8.

Cousy Will Discuss Future Plans Today

Boston (AP)— Basketball star Bob Cousy has a date today with Boston Celtics owner Walter Brown to discuss his future.

Cousy said he is considering 3 courses: play another year as a pro for the Celtics; act as a non-playing adviser to the local National Basketball Association team; coach the Boston College basketball team.

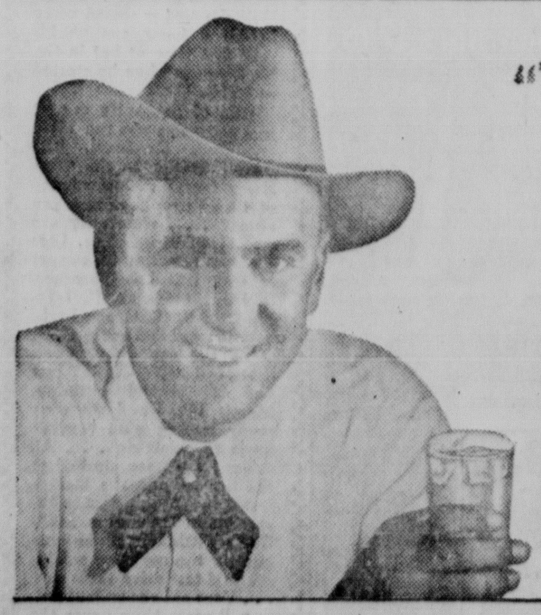

Cousy admitted he had talked with officials at Boston College. Dino Martin recently resigned as BC court coach.

Ex-Nebraskan To Be Matrix Speaker

A former Nebraskan will speak to the state's top newspaperwomen and their bosses at Theta Sigma Phi's annual Matrix banquet March 30 at the University of Nebraska.

She is Florence Swihart, who in the past 20 years has been feature writer, assistant state editor and picture editor of the Des Moines Register. She is now The Register's school editor.

Miss Swihart was a member of Theta Sigma Phi and news editor of the Daily Nebraskan while attending the University. After graduation she worked as city editor, society editor and columnist for the Fremont Evening Tribune.

She will participate as Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity for women, honors the state's outstanding woman journalists of the past year.

"Woman of the Year" plaques will go to the newspaperwomen whose work is judged most outstanding in the weekly and daily divisions.

Individual winners will also be recognized in four categories: general news and features; women's page news and features; columns; and woman's page general excel-

The dinner begins at 6:30 p.m. in the Indian Suite of the Student Union, and is open to the public.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

I flew from snowbound New York to snowy London in 6½ hours in a big, warm TWA Boeing 707—just long enough to have two cocktails, an excellent dinner and a little advice from the TWA steward.

"You won't recognize England," he said. "It's getting to be like an extension of 5th Avenue."

☆ ☆ ☆

"No gimmicks, no gadgets," says the ad for a washing machine in my morning paper.

"It's American talk," said the lounge waiter here in the Angel Hotel in antique Guilford. "The industrialists believe they cahn't sell a washer or cooker or a fridge unless they dress it up in Hollywood language.

"It's the films does it," he said. "All of the old films on the telly. With John Wayne firing on the Redskins until we've got quick-draw clubs in England.

"For the young people, it's jazz and the Twist and all that.

"No wonder we import that way of speaking to go with it all, now is it?"

The most up-to-date American export (barring Polaris missile submarines) — is the Simon-pure, psychologically sure, English nursery rhyme.

These are done on records for American moppets — and there is no reason at all why we shouldn't let the English children share it.

"Naturally, this sort of thing comes from America," said an English music-shop owner. "All American parents are child psychologists.

"The American record company made the nursery rhymes in the classic way—Humpty Dumpty couldn't be put together again, the Big Bad Wolf was boiled to death.

"These records simply didn't sell. It took a Columbia University psychologist to tell them why:

" 'Put on happy endings,' she said. 'It's not the children who buy the records. It's their mothers.' The result—a smash hit."

☆ ☆ ☆

The upshot of all this child know-how is that America did it again (as the old Lucky Lindy song went).

Sales in the U.S. have been excellent. And the export market to England looks even better.

British mamas are anxious to discover what makes little Sammy run. And to tinker with his tender little psyche and get him all juiced up like a troubled American kid.

The three little pigs. They don't make boiling water for the Big Bad Wolf to slide in down the chimney.

"The wolf now slides down into a big pan of fudge the pigs made.

"He is chocolate-covered. He promises that from now on he'll be sweet.

"Oh, and Humpty Dumpty is mended again. I think it's done with a new kind of plastic that the King's men discover.

"Mother Hubbard's cupboard turns out to have some bones they overlooked the first time around. And rock-a-bye baby's cradle falls. But comes down by parachute or something. Perhaps it has an ejection seat.

"Anyway, the endings are all happy."

This certainly shows what you can do if you put your mind to it—or rather, if you put a Columbia psychologist's mind to it.

It proves free enterprise meshes beautifully with keeping the kids off the blood-and-thunder nursery rhyme kick.

... DEACONS AND BUCKEYES

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Ohio State and Wake Forest move into the semifinals of the NCAA tournament Friday night with the same thought in mind: revenge.

Wake Forest wants to avenge a defeat the Buckeyes hung on the Deacons earlier this season. State, on the other hand, is anxious for another shot at Cincinnati, which took the national crown from the Bucs last year in an overtime.

Cincinnati's opponent in the other semifinal will be UCLA, the Big 5 Conference champion.

Waiting for the winners is a place in Saturday night's championship game before a sellout crowd of more than 18,000 in Freedom Hall.

Wake Forest comes into Louisville with a 21-8 record and a promise to improve its showing against the Buckeyes.

In the first meeting, Wake Forest hit only 33 per cent of its shots and All America Len Chappell was held to 15 points, his lowest this season.

The credit for stopping Chappell goes to State's John Havlicek whom, the fans claim, is "always moving, circling. You don't know where he is. You might go up to the moon, and he's up their waiting for you."

Coach Fred Taylor said his team will be at its peak this weekend for the battle with Wake Forest.

"We're out of school and will be able to concentrate on basketball. We won't practice any more than usual, but the players won't have any distractions." State is between semesters this week.

Ohio State now has a 25-1 mark for the season.

UCLA had to get off the floor to fight its way into the tournament. The Bruins lost 7 of their first 11 games then captured 14 of their next 16 for a record of 18-9.

They don't have exceptional height to throw at Cincinnati but coach Johnny Wooden figures he doesn't need it. "We've come this far and we'd like to have a part in seeing that there's a new champion."

Cincinnati, with a 27-2 record, is already at its peak, says coach Ed Jucker.

"We're an entirely different club than last year, even though we have 3 back from the starting lineup."

Coffeyville Impressive In JC Meet

Hutchinson, Kan. (AP)—Coffeyville, Kan., the Kansas Champion, looked like the team to beat following the first day's play Tuesday in the National Junior College basketball tournament.

Coffeyville handled its first-round opponent, Bethany Lutheran of Mankato, Minn., with ease, 84-61. It was Coffeyville's 29th straight victory.

Young Harris, Ga., brought a string of 30 victories to the tournament but was beaten 74-58 by Moberly, Mo. McCoy McLemore of Moberly scored 26 points. This is Moberly's 11th tournament appearance. It has been national champion twice, in 1954 and 1955.

Lon Morris of Jacksonville, Tex., dropped the New York City Community College of Brooklyn 64-53 in another first-round game. Dennis Watson scored 26 for Brooklyn, Jerry Wade 21 for the winners.

Despite a 25-point performance by Richard Rishel, the Creston, Iowa, Bears lost to Flint, Mich., 71-63, in an afternoon game. Pat Manley scored 21 for Flint.

In another afternoon game, Fort Smith, Ark., edged Lincoln, Ill., 68-67 on Pat Martin's last-second field goal that hung on the lip of the basket, then dribbled in. It was Martin's only field goal.

Fort Smith trailed by as much as 18 points, and was behind 12 at the half. Tom Flynn of Lincoln scored 28 points. Jim Bob Weir of Fort Smith had 24.

Wednesday's pairings (all times eastern standard):

FIRST ROUND

2 p.m.—Weber of Ogden, Utah, vs. Cameron A&M of Lawton, Okla.

3:45 p.m.—Trinidad, Colo., vs. Wilmington, N. C.

QUARTER-FINALS

8:45 p.m.—Moberly vs. Flint.

10:30 p.m.—Fort Smith vs. Lon Morris.

St. John's To Meet Duquesne In Semis

New York (AP) — St. John's of New York swept by Holy Cross 80-74 and Duquesne toppled Bradley 88-85 Tuesday night to gain semi final berths in the 25th National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

Tuesday night's winners meet in Thursday night's semifinals, which also match Loyola of Chicago against Dayton.

St. John's, patiently working for the good shots, broke it open behind limber Leroy Ellis in the second half. The fast and graceful 6-10 pivot scored almost at will as the Redmen rambled after intermission. He also monopolized the boards.

Ellis had 29 points, 21 in the second half, and nabbed 11 rebounds. Holy Cross' quick-shooting Jack Foley was ably contained by Willie Hall until St. John's had it safely put away.

Foley was virtually the entire crusader offense in the second half and totaled 35 points.

For St. John's it was a workman-like victory. The Redman displayed all-around skills but mostly it was their ability to count on their openings that proved the difference.

They took charge early, had a 39-31 lead at the half and Holy Cross was able to make it respectable only with a too-late spree.

St. John's, the New York powerhouse with a 20-4 record, impressed a Madison Square Garden crowd of 16,368 with a flashy 62 per cent mark on its field goal attempts, hitting 34 of 55. Ellis was 13 of 19.

Foley, who is the nation's second highest scorer behind Utah's Billy McGill, clocked on 16 of 35 attempts from the field and three of five from the foul line. Overall, Holy Cross was 31 of 66 from the field.

The Crusaders finished with a 20-6 record.

Sophomore Willy Somerset keyed a thrilling second half for Duquesne's tenacious Dukes, who at one point led by as many as 14 points but did not put it away until the closing moments.

Somerset, a muscular 5-10 flash, scored 20 of his 28 points in the second half and time and again broke the back of a Bradley rally.

He and his sharpshooting teammates actually clinched it at the foul line. In the second half the Dukes hit a spectacular 20 for 20 free throws.

With two time All-America Chet Walker putting on a one man show that carried Bradley to within 3 points, 86-83, with 1:04 remaining, the game that had once appeared a Duquesne runaway became a cliffhanger.

Walker finished with 36 points.

But the two teams took turns losing the ball in the next few seconds and with just 10 second left Mike Rice zeroed in two foul shots and the Dukes were home.

Lab Tests Show Horse Stimulated

Miami, Fla. (AP) —Gulfstream park stewards suspended trainer Luis D'Casseries after receiving a laboratory report showing a horse he trained had been stimulated.

The horse, Filtrado, finished second in the 9th race at Gulfstream March 13. The 6-year-old is owned by J. E. Jimenez.

The official report from the State Racing Commission laboratory found the drugs 'ritalin' and 'azium' in Filtrado's urine specimen taken after the race.

D'Casseries also was charged with possession of a hypodermic syringe and needles.

Stockholders Contend Bowie Sold Too Low

... FILE SUIT ACCORDINGLY

Upper Marlboro, Md. (AP)—A group of minority stockholders, who contend Bowie Race Course could have been sold for a higher price, filed suit against the former owners Tuesday in Prince Georges county circuit court.

Four owners of about 2,500 shares in the southern Maryland Agricultural Association asked the court to appoint 3 disinterested persons to appraise the track "for the purpose of setting a true value on our stock."

The court gave the defendants 20 days in which to file a reply.

Bowie, one of 3 major thoroughbred tracks in Maryland, was sold to Patino Mines and Enterprises Consolidated, Inc., of Canada, for $5 million shortly before the current meeting opened Feb. 9.

"I'm firmly convinced that $5 million was not a fair price for the Bowie track and I believe $9.98 per share was not a fair price for our stock," said Samuel R. Zetzer of Baltimore, one of the minority stock-holders. "Therefore, we refused payment."

Joining Zetzer in the move to secure a higher price for their holdings are his wife, Helen, the Sterling Trust Corporation and Stanley-Schurhardt, Inc.

Zetzer said he believes Bowie was sold for about one-half of its value.

"The going rate of property in the track's location, where the Bel Air Estates were recently developed, the property of the plant alone is worth close to $4 million, he said.

—Also, we plan to prove from the figures provided by the Southern Maryland Agricultural Association itself that the racing dates to Bowie are worth another $4 million."

"The only thing I can figure out," Zetzer said, "is that the new owners plan to liquidate the track in a year or two and thereby make a quick and enormous profit."

NADY, JENKINS APPLY FOR CU GRID POSITION

Denver (AP) — Montana's Ray Jenkins and Gary Nady, coach at Parsons College in Iowa, have applied for the head football coaching job at the University of Colorado, The Denver Post said Tuesday.

Colorado is seeking a coach to succeed Everett (Sonny) Grandelius, fired last Saturday for violating NCAA recruiting rules.

Nady was a member of Colorado's 1957 Orange Bowl team and, in two seasons at the little Iowa College, his teams have lost only one regular season game.

Nady was married until recently to the former Marilyn Van Derbur, Miss America of 1958. They are divorced.

Cousy Will Discuss Future Plans Today

Boston (AP)— Basketball star Bob Cousy has a date today with Boston Celtics owner Walter Brown to discuss his future.

Cousy said he is considering 3 courses: play another year as a pro for the Celtics; act as a non-playing adviser to the local National Basketball Association team; coach the Boston College basketball team.

Cousy admitted he had talked with officials at Boston College. Dino Martin recently resigned as BC court coach.

Green Ticket Wins $28,990 Swift Stakes

New York (AP) — Adele L. Ran's Green Ticket took the lead soon after the start and just made it stick in winning the $28,990 Swift Stakes before an opening day crowd of 47,065 at Aqueduct race course.

Eleven 3-year-olds competed in the 6-furlong dash with 7 of them eligible for the Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont triple crown. Green ticket just managed to save it by a half a length over James W. Rogers' Duc D'or.

Ex-Nebraskan To Be Matrix Speaker

A former Nebraskan will speak to the state's top newspaperwomen and their bosses at Theta Sigma Phi's annual Matrix banquet March 30 at the University of Nebraska.

She is Florence Swihart, who in the past 20 years has been feature writer, assistant state editor and picture editor of the Des Moines Register. She is now The Register's school editor.

Miss Swihart was a member of Theta Sigma Phi and news editor of the Daily Nebraskan while attending the University. After graduation she worked as city editor, society editor and columnist for the Fremont Evening Tribune.

She will participate as Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity for women, honors the state's outstanding woman journalists of the past year.

"Woman of the Year" plaques will go to the newspaperwomen whose work is judged most outstanding in the weekly and daily divisions.

Individual winners will also be recognized in four categories: general news and features; women's page news and features; columns; and woman's page general excel-

The dinner begins at 6:30 p.m. in the Indian Suite of the Student Union, and is open to the public.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

I flew from snowbound New York to snowy London in 6½ hours in a big, warm TWA Boeing 707—just long enough to have two cocktails, an excellent dinner and a little advice from the TWA steward.

"You won't recognize England," he said. "It's getting to be like an extension of 5th Avenue."

☆ ☆ ☆

"No gimmicks, no gadgets," says the ad for a washing machine in my morning paper.

"It's American talk," said the lounge waiter here in the Angel Hotel in antique Guilford. "The industrialists believe they cahn't sell a washer or cooker or a fridge unless they dress it up in Hollywood language.

"It's the films does it," he said. "All of the old films on the telly. With John Wayne firing on the Redskins until we've got quick-draw clubs in England.

"For the young people, it's jazz and the Twist and all that.

"No wonder we import that way of speaking to go with it all, now is it?"

The most up-to-date American export (barring Polaris missile submarines) — is the Simon-pure, psychologically sure, English nursery rhyme.

These are done on records for American moppets — and there is no reason at all why we shouldn't let the English children share it.

"Naturally, this sort of thing comes from America," said an English music-shop owner. "All American parents are child psychologists.

"The American record company made the nursery rhymes in the classic way—Humpty Dumpty couldn't be put together again, the Big Bad Wolf was boiled to death.

"These records simply didn't sell. It took a Columbia University psychologist to tell them why:

" 'Put on happy endings,' she said. 'It's not the children who buy the records. It's their mothers.' The result—a smash hit."

☆ ☆ ☆

The upshot of all this child know-how is that America did it again (as the old Lucky Lindy song went).

Sales in the U.S. have been excellent. And the export market to England looks even better.

British mamas are anxious to discover what makes little Sammy run. And to tinker with his tender little psyche and get him all juiced up like a troubled American kid.

The three little pigs. They don't make boiling water for the Big Bad Wolf to slide in down the chimney.

"The wolf now slides down into a big pan of fudge the pigs made.

"He is chocolate-covered. He promises that from now on he'll be sweet.

"Oh, and Humpty Dumpty is mended again. I think it's done with a new kind of plastic that the King's men discover.

"Mother Hubbard's cupboard turns out to have some bones they overlooked the first time around. And rock-a-bye baby's cradle falls. But comes down by parachute or something. Perhaps it has an ejection seat.

"Anyway, the endings are all happy."

This certainly shows what you can do if you put your mind to it—or rather, if you put a Columbia psychologist's mind to it.

It proves free enterprise meshes beautifully with keeping the kids off the blood-and-thunder nursery rhyme kick.

Salt-Wahoo Okays $223,000 Budget

Salt-Wahoo Watershed District directors Tuesday approved a budget of $223,130 for the 1962-63 fiscal year beginning July 1.

The proposed budget allocates $191,200 for land acquisition and construction and $31,930 for salaries and operating expense.

The construction budget proposes $35,900 for land acquisition, $77,000 for roads, bridge and waterways construction, $16,700 for utilities, $10,500 for engineering and supervision, and $10,000 for drainage and flood control maintenance.

Road and bridge modifications are included in the Lincoln channel work. Additionally, the district is responsible for a 4.3% enhancement contribution (estimated at $41,000 in the budget) for channel construction work.

Agreement Okayed

In other action, the watershed board approved the proposed outline of agreement for dissolution of the Sanitary District and distribution of its obligations and assets between the Salt-Wahoo district and Lincoln.

A formal agreement, calling for Sept. 1 dissolution, is to be prepared and signed by the 3 subdivisions. Target date for the signing is May 1.

Norman Gau, Omaha District project engineer, said construction of the Antelope Creek Dam southeast of Lincoln is awaiting good weather.

He reported the construction bids for Dam 4 near Sprague and Dam 8 near Hickman have been called for April 19.

Gau said an early construction start is hoped, but bids wouldn't be opened until land acquisition is complete.

Design memoranda on Dams 11 and 12 south of Emerald and Dams 2 near Kramer and Dam 9 south of Hickman are ready for higher echelon review and expected with approval land acquisition would begin, he said.

The board also voted to meet regularly the third Wednesday of each month instead of on call. Increase in business matters was the reason given.

Grimes Injured In Car Accident

Oxnard, Calif. (AP) — George Grimes, publisher of the Oxnard Press-Courier, was reported in improved condition Wednesday at St. John's Hospital, where he was taken after an accident last Wednesday.

Grimes, 67, suffered clavicle, shoulder and rib fractures when his car went off the road and struck a telephone pole. He was driving alone.

Grimes was a former executive of the Omaha World-Herald.

Schroeder Is Manager Of Salt-Wahoo

Hal L. Schroeder, 41-year-old retired Army colonel, was named Tuesday to the new post of general manager of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District.

Schroeder

Schroeder recently retired from the Army Corps of Engineers after 20 years service. He had been area engineer during construction of missile bases near Lincoln and Omaha.

The Salt-Wahoo directors approved a $9,000 annual salary. Additionally, Schroeder receives Army retirement pay.

Board Chairman Otto Liebers said the district was "very fortunate" in finding Schroeder, a man with both engineering and executive abilities.

He said an engineer-executive is now needed because projects are emerging from the planning stage into actual construction.

Schroeder is a native of Hastings and a 1942 University of Nebraska graduate in engineering. He received an Army commission upon graduation and holds a master's degree in engineering from the University of Illinois.

He is married to the former Marjorie Samson of York. They have 6 daughters and live at 1312 Eastridge Dr.

Driver Of School Bus Goes On Trial; 20 Were Killed

Greeley, Colo. (AP)—Duane Harms, 26, driver of a school bus in which 20 children were killed in a railroad crossing tragedy, went on trial in District Court on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

A jury of 10 men and 2 women was chosen and will begin hearing testimony Wednesday.

Harms was slightly injured and 17 children were hurt when the bus was struck by a Union Pacific Streamliner passenger train 7 miles southeast of Greeley Dec. 14.

Two of the early spectators were Mrs. Illa Hanseon and Mrs. Rhoda Herndon, nurses aides at the Greeley Hospital where the injured children were taken.

Both women said they feel Harms has the sympathy of most of the Greeley community.

Mrs. Herndon said, "I've heard some of the parents say that he shouldn't be punished. There is no feeling of revenge."

Forgery Brings 2 Years In Pen

An Omaha man was sentenced by Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele Tuesday to two years in the State Penitentiary on a forgery charge.

William T. Bevins, 24, had pleaded no contest and was found guilty of passing a $89.80 forged check Sept. 2, 1961.

County Denies Bid For Beer License

By GERRY WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday denied an application for an on and off sale beer license for the Town and Country Club Inc. at 3045 Adams.

C. L. Clark, attorney for the club, pointed out to the board that with the annexation of West O and No. 14th Streets to the city, there would be at least 3 more vacancies for beer licenses in the county.

"We have filed this application now in order to be given one of those vacancies as of June 1," he said.

Marvin Roberts, Town and Country restaurant owner and operator of the Town and Country Club, told the commissioners that if the license were granted, "we intend to eliminate our bottle club operation."

Club Operation

He explained that the operation would be a beer club, whereby only members and guests would be permitted to patronize the club and purchase beer.

"We want to do this in a way that it will not be an ordinary operation where you just walk in and buy a beer," he stated.

Both Clark and Roberts emphasized that the club would be an attraction to tourists staying in Lincoln who do not wish to patronize the regular beer taverns.

R. W. Thomas, owner of the Town and Country Motel, said, many people leave Lincoln to go to Omaha in order that they may drink.

A Lincoln Air Force Base squadron commander, Maj. William E. Robinson, supported granting of the license.

He said that the officers with whom he comes in contact "don't like to go into so-called beer taverns in Lincoln; they like to go into a place like Town and Country."

'Like a Change"

"Even though we have our own club at the base, we like a change once in a while," he added.

The only opponent at the public hearing was Norm Langemach, attorney for the Lincoln Retail Beer Dealers Assn.

He said that the annexation from a population standpoint did not present any reason for adding 4 or 5 more beer licenses in the county.

"I am sure that no one who is a guest of Town and Country has any fear of not being able to obtain beer," he said.

Langemach called the board's attention to the fact that if the license be granted, every other motel could make application for a similar license and the board would be starting a precedent.

"We recommend the denial of this license because no sufficient ground has been shown for a change in policy of the board at this time," he added.

The policy of the County Board has been to issue no new beer licenses on Cornhusker Highway.

Plans Are Approved For Chadron Armory

The National Guard bureau has approved the plans for the armory to be built at Chadron and bids for the project could be taken within the next 30 days, the adjutant general's office said Tuesday.

Asst. Adj. Gen. Col. Don Penterman said word is being awaited from the U.S. Labor Department on what the wage determination is going to be for the project. This information must be included in specifications for the work.

Johnson Is Head Of Historical Markers Group

J. R. Johnson, faculty member at Wayne State Teachers College, was re-elected chairman of the Historical Markers Council.

Named vice president was Miss Irma Costello of Omaha.

The council also announced the reappointment of Robert L. Carlisle of Norfolk to a 4-year council term.

Plans for erection of two markers this spring — one at the junction of Highways 30 and 30A-92 west of Clarks and one on Highway 77 north of Beatrice — were revealed.

The marker west of Clarks deals with the Mormon Trail, while the other one near Beatrice is linked with the Homestead movement.

Eden Park Land Purchase Okayed

The purchase of a 5-acre addition to Eden Park near 48th and Antelope Creek Road for $6,000 has been approved by the City Council.

The unimproved property was purchased from Loomis and Hoyt, real estate firm.

Public Safety Director Emmett Junge said the acquired land would not affect the location of the Eden Park swimming pool, but would be used for street access to 40th.

AEC Program For Commercial Use Of Nuclear Energy Said 'Inadequate'

Washington (AP) — The chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee said Tuesday the Atomic Energy Commission's program for commercial use of nuclear energy is "pitifully inadequate."

And Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., said President Kennedy's call for a new study of the subject would delay the program still more.

Holifield's comments came as his committee began hearings on a $200-million authorization bill for the AEC in the coming year that includes no request for funds to build civilian power reactors.

Holifield asked chairman Glenn Seaborg and other AEC members about cancellation of civilian reactor starts.

Noting Kennedy's call for a "new hard look" at energy resources, Holifield said, "now studies are proposed which will require months, and if based on relation to studies of other federal agencies as suggested in the President's letter, could conceivably require years."

Seaborg said that the AEC had requested $60 million for new reactors, but that the Budget Bureau had eliminated the item.

Not A Slap

Seaborg also said that the President's letter to him, released at the White House Monday, was "not a slap on AEC fingers, for going too slow" as Rep. Craig Hosmer R-Calif., suggested it might have been.

Seaborg said reactors shouldn't be built "just to build a record, but only when we are ready and can learn something from them."

Sen. Clinton Anderson, D-N.M., asked whether the President and the AEC were aware of two exhaustive studies previously made by the joint committee on the nation's power resources. Seaborg said that he "assumed" that the President knew about them.

Beat Way

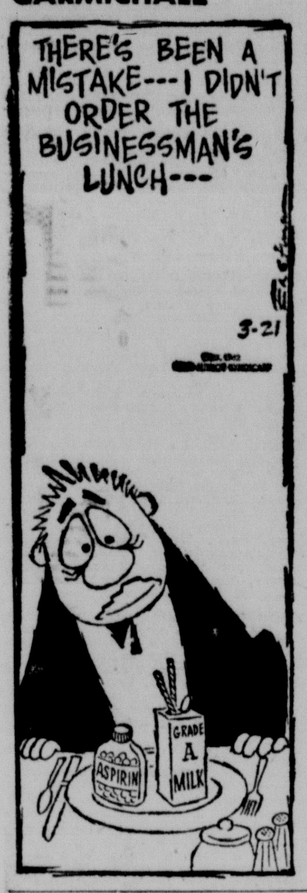

Rep. Melvin Price, D-Ill., said "appointing a committee is the best way to kill a program."

Before permitting Seaborg to read his prepared testimony, Holifield read him a lecture on how "history is now repeating itself" in the decline of civilian nuclear power.

Holifield said that if no new starts are made this year, "you won't have any power plants coming in in 1965 and the years thereafter."

He added, "if you wait to build prototypes until you solve all the problems you won't build any prototypes."

Sulphur Mine Fire Burns Itself Out

Grand Isle, La. (AP) — A spectacular fire that sent flames leaping nearly 100 feet above the world's only offshore sulphur mine burned itself out Tuesday.

Freeport Sulphur Co. officials said the fire exhausted itself at about 3:30 a.m. It had burned about 33 hours.

They said it was too early to estimate damage to the $30-million structure but that preliminary investigation was encouraging. Earlier estimates said the damage would range from the hundreds of thousands of dollars to more than $1 million.

Editors Urged To Come Up With Better Product

Milwaukee, Wis. (UPI) — Every newspaper editor "worth his salt" must come up with a better product in dealing with problems of his region, his country and the world, Mark Ethridge, chairman of the board of the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, said here Tuesday.

"There is still too much superficiality, too much overwriting, too much glamorizing of bums — male and female —too little digging for background," Ethridge said.

Speaking at the third of the 1962 Lucius W. Nieman Chair Lectures at Marquette University, Ethridge said "I still argue that our salvation lies in better, not shorter or narrower newspapers."

Part of the present problem, in which newspapers are merging and losing circulation, Ethridge said, "is undoubtedly due to the quality of our manpower."

"We can not man the newspapers today with ignorant or uneducated men and expect them to command the respect of readers who are aware of the space race" and other changes in the world, he said.

Journalism schools, he said, must "become professional schools in the fullest sense." Millions are poured into medical and law schools, but "we spend precious little in producing people who have the instrument, and sometimes the will, to protect the only thing that really means anything in the missile-hydrogen world — our civilization, imperfect as it is, at home and abroad."

Newspapers should make their pay scales more attractive, he said, because "we are losing far too many men to the related fields of TV, radio, press agentry and industrial journalism."

Ethridge said he is also concerned whether newspapers are doing all they can "to get and tell the people the truth" about the missile and space races, Geneva, and so forth, as well as "how our own government, local, state and national are run."

"Our obligation is primarily to a free world in which there is no foreign story; all of them are local," he said. "The Geneva conference is a local story in every home in America precisely because it affects every home in America," he said.

More depth and interpretation is needed at all levels of reporting from court house to United Nations, he said.

Maybe newspapers have to forego their linage and circulation vanity, he said, and charge what newspapers are worth — and make them worth it.

"Give me a newspaper that prints the news fully, fairly and fearlessly, interprets it intelligently and comments upon it vigorously, and I will take my chances that those other things for which publishers are responsible — fiscal soundness, economic independence and public acceptance — will be added in satisfactory measure," Ethridge said.

Press Conference Will Be On Live TV

Washington (AP) — The White House announced Tuesday that President Kennedy's news conference Wednesday afternoon will be carried on live television and radio by the National Broadcasting Co.

Other networks will broadcast the conference live on radio and tape it for later use on television, Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said. Both the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co. plan to telecast the conference at 4 p.m. (CST). They and the Mutual Broadcasting System will put it on radio as it happens, starting at 3 p.m. (CST).

This will be Kennedy's 28th news conference since taking office, and his 10th in the last 11 weeks. It will be the sixth carried on live television.

Local stations will carry the program.

Action On Poll Tax In Low Gear

Washington (AP) — Southern Senators, undecided on how long to carry on their fight against an anti-poll tax measure, kept proceedings of the Senate in low gear Tuesday.

Not only was the Senate itself prevented from taking any action but its committees also were shutting down as leaders stepped up pressure on the Dixie forces for a showdown.

So far no headway has been made toward getting before the Senate a constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections. The move was initiated last Wednesday.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., long-time leader of the Southern forces, told a reporter that a decision on how far to press the battle is still "up in the air."

The Southern Senators had a meeting Monday without coming to any conclusion, but Russell said he expects a decision to be reached at another meeting planned for Wednesday.

Some of the Southerners are urging an all-out fight; others simply favor making a record on the issue before a vote; 3 of them, including Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., are supporting the anti-poll tax amendment.

Holland is the chief sponsor of the measure, which has been urged by President Kennedy and which won Senate approval by a 72-16 vote two years ago.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the assistant majority leader, told newsmen he is confident action can be completed this week. But Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he doesn't know if this will be possible.

CUBA WILL TRY NEARLY 1,200 INVADERS SOON

Havana (UPI)—The Fidel Castro regime announced plans Tuesday to try as war criminals nearly 1,200 prisoners taken after last April's abortive Pig's Bay invasion.

A brief armed forces statement said the prisoners would go on trial, presumably in Havana, starting March 29. They are presently being held in Havana's Principe Prison.

The government statement did not report that 5 of the prisoners were executed last Aug. 9 in Santa Clara, Las Villas Province, or that 9 other invaders had been sentenced to 30-year prison terms.

Nor did the communique make any reference to current negotiations between the government and a committee of Cuban exile families to ransom the prisoners for tractors.

Germany Launches First Postwar Sub

Kiel, Germany (AP) — West Germany's first submarine built and designed since the end of World War II was placed in active service Tuesday.

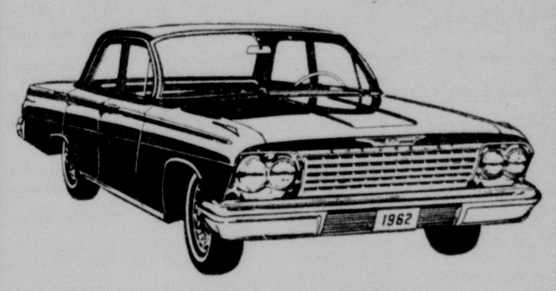

The 350-ton U-1 was handed over by the commander of West Germany's amphibious forces, Capt. Erich Karl Topp, to the skipper of the new craft, Cmdr. Gerhard Baumann.

$2.75 Million Issue On Ballot

Omaha (AP) — The county board voted Tuesday to put a $2.75 million bond issue before the voters May 15. The money would be used to build two additions to county hospital and remodel other portions.

The board was told a maximum of .67 of a mill would be necessary to underwrite the bonds over a 10-year period.

NOTICE OF SALE OF $4,300,000 WESTERN SYSTEM REVENUE BONDS, ISSUE OF 1962 OF CONSUMERS PUBLIC POWER DISTRICT, NEBRASKA

SEALED PROPOSALS for the purchase of $4,300,000 Western System Revenue Bonds, Issue of 1962, (herein called the "1962 Bonds") of Consumers Public Power District (herein called the "District") will be received by the Board of Directors of the District on March 28, 1962, at the office of the District, Columbus, Nebraska, until 10:00 o'clock A.M. (central standard time). Such proposals may also be submitted, at the option of the bidder, at the office of Hawkins, DeJafield & Wood, Bond Counsel to the District, 67 Wall Street, New York 5, N.Y., until 11:00 o'clock A.M. (eastern standard time) on said date, for transmittal to the Board of Directors.

The 1962 Bonds are to be issued pursuant to Chapter 70, Article 6, Reissue Revised Statutes of 1943 of the State of Nebraska (herein called the "Act"), and under and pursuant to Resolution No. 550 of the District adopted May 31, 1944, and Resoultion No 1211 of the District adopted March 13. 1962 (herein collectively called the "Resolutions").

The 1962 Bonds are being issued principally for the purpose of paying part of the cost of construction of additional generating and transformation facilities, together with tie lines, transmission connections and related facilities, in the District's Western System

Such Bonds will be dated and bear interest from January 1, 1962, and will mature on the dates and in the principal amounts shown below:

January 1, 1980	60,000	January 1, 1995	130,000

The 1962 Bonds will bear interest at the rate or rates specified in the proposal of the successful bidder in accordance with this Notice of Sale. Interest will be payable semi-annually on January 1 and July 1 in each year.

Such Bonds will be subject to redemption, upon published notice as provided in the Resolutions, at any time on or after January 1, 1967, in whole, or in part in inverse order of maturities to the extent and in the manner provided in the Resolutions (and in the event that less than all of the 1962 Bonds of an entire maturity are redeemed, the 1962 Bonds of such maturity to be redeemed shall be selected by lot), at the respective redemption prices (expressed as percentages of the principal amount of the Bonds to be redeemed) set forth below, in each case together with accrued interest to the redemption date:

Period During Which Redeemed (Both Dates Inclusive)	Redemption Price
January 1, 1967 to December 31, 1969	104 %
January 1, 1970 to December 31, 1972	103½
January 1, 1973 to December 31, 1975	103
January 1, 1976 to December 31, 1978	102½
January 1, 1979 to December 31, 1981	102
January 1, 1982 to December 31, 1984	101½
January 1, 1985 to December 31, 1987	101
January 1, 1988 to December 31, 1990	100½
Thereafter	100

For further information as to the 1962 Bonds, including the District's covenants with respect thereto, reference is hereby made to the Resolutions and to the form of proposed Official Statement mentioned in the closing paragraph of this Notice of Sale.

Each proposal must be on the Official Form of Proposal and must be a bid of not less than $4,214,000 plus interest on the 1962 Bonds accrued to the date of delivery, and must specify in a multiple of ⅛ of 1% the rate per annum of interest (not exceeding 5%) which the 1962 Bonds of each maturity are to bear. Only one interest rate may be specified for the 1962 Bonds of the same maturity, and only one coupon will be attached to each Bond for each semi-annual interest payment. The maximum average rate of interest is 5% per annum. Each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be addressed to the Board of Directors, Consumers Public Power District, Columbus, Nebraska, and marked on the outside, in substance, "Proposal for Bonds" As a condition precedent to the consideration of his proposal, each bidder must enclose with it, as a good-faith deposit, a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a bank in the City of New York or the State of Nebraska, payable to the order of "Consumers Public Power District" for $86,000. No interest will be allowed on any good-faith deposit.

The right is reserved to reject all proposals or any proposal not conforming to this Notice of Sale or not on the Official Form of Proposal (without alteration except for the insertions required by the form). The right is also reserved to waive, if permitted by law, any irregularity or informality in any proposal.

As between acceptable proposals complying with this Notice of Sale, the 1962 Bonds will be sold to the highest responsible bidder whose proposal offers to purchase all the 1962 Bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest interest cost to the District over the life of such Bonds, after deducting the amount of premium bid above $4,300,000 or adding the amount of discount bid below $4,300,000. It is requested that each proposal be accompanied by a statement of the interest cost (after deducting the premium offered or adding the discount, if any) computed at the interest rate or rates specified in the proposal in accordance with the said method of computation, and of the percentage of net interest cost, but such statement is not to be considered as a part of the proposal. No bid which results in a percentage of net interest cost in excess of 5% will be considered.

Proposals will be accepted or rejected by the Board of Directors of the District (at a meeting called for that purpose at the office of the District in Columbus, Nebraska) not later than 2:00 o'clock P.M., central standard time, (3:00 o'clock P.M., eastern standard time), on the date for receiving proposals. When the successful bidder has been ascertained, the Board of Directors of the District will adopt a resolution awarding the purchase of the 1962 Bonds, and the President or other authorized officer of the District will promptly accept in writing the proposal of such bidder and will return all good-faith deposits made to the persons making the same except the deposit made by the successful bidder. The deposit of the successful bidder will be applied as part payment for the 1962 Bonds or, if he fails to comply with the terms of his proposal, will be retained as liquidated damages and in full satisfaction of any claims of the District against the successful bidder relating to the 1962 Bonds, or if the District fails to fulfill the conditions stated in the proposal, the deposit will be returned.

As soon as possible after the successful bidder is ascertained, the form of the Official Statement of the District will be dated the date of sale of the 1962 Bonds, the interest rate or rates will be inserted therein, and the table therein under "Debt Service Requirements" will be revised as to the 1962 Bonds to reflect the actual interest rate or rates, and the successful bidder will be furnished with copies, in reasonable quantity as required in connection with the sale by him of the 1962 Bonds, of such Official Statement (including a copy of Resolution No. 1211 attached thereto), including one copy thereof signed manually by the President or other authorized officer of the District.

The 1962 Bonds will be delivered in definitive form as coupon Bonds in the denomination of $1,000 with a single coupon attached for each installment of interest thereon, and be registerable as to principal only, or as to both principal and interest. Such delivery will be made in the City of New York or the City of Chicago, on or about April 19, 1962, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. (eastern standard time) or such other place, time and date as shall be acceptable to the District and the successful bidder, at which time the successful bidder shall pay the balance of the purchase price by one or more certified or cashier's checks or bank drafts drawn upon banks or trust companies in the City of New York or the City of Chicago, payable to the order of "Consumers Public Power District".

It shall be a condition of the obligation of the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the 1962 Bonds that contemporaneously with or before accepting such Bonds and paying therefor he shall receive copies, in reasonable quanity as required in connection with deliveries by the successful bidder of the 1962 Bonds, of the opinion of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, Bond Counsel to the District, in the form referred to in the closing paragraph of this Notice of Sale and attached to the Official Form of Proposal, including one copy thereof signed manually.

Upon the delivery of the 1962 Bonds, or as soon as practicable thereafter, the successful bidder will be furnished with a record of proceedings taken in connection with the issuance of such Bonds.

Copies of the form of proposed Official Statement of the District relating to the 1962 Bonds including Resolution No. 1211, of this Notice of Sale, of the Official Form of Proposal, and of the form of the opinion of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, Bond Counsel to the District, will be furnished upon application to the District, Columbus, Nebraska, or Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, 67 Wall Street, New York 5, N.Y.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New tonic-tablet laxative acts on colonic muscles... de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body.

But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

Relief, doctors say, lies in the non-irritating, de-constipating principle of a new tonic-tablet called COLONAID. Of all leading laxatives, only COLONAID gives you its special 3-way overnight relief for tension-caused constipation.

(1) COLONAID stimulates your colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement". (2) COLONAID's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colon muscles. (3) COLONAID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital-proved safe even for expectant mothers. Get COLONAID today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

FAA Cancels Certificate Of W. Poythress

Washington (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency has canceled the certificate of William F. Poythress, 30, the flight engineer in the plane crash in which 74 army recruits were killed at Richmond, Va., Nov. 8.

Poythress, one of two survivors, was charged with 11 major violations of flight safety regulations in connection with the flight.

The FAA said the cancellation closed its proceedings against Poythress, whose address was given as 3503 N.W. 5th St., Miami.

The agency said enforcement proceedings against the pilot and only other survivor, Ronald H. Conway, 29 — are still under way.

Last Feb. 6 a report of the Civil Aeronautics Board accused the operator of the plane — Imperial Airlines of Miami Springs, Fla.—of mismanagement. The CAB said the crew was "not capable of performing the function or assuming the responsibility" assigned to it. Three crew members perished along with the army men.

The FAA said that Poythress failed to inspect the log books of the Lockheed Constellation before it took off from Columbia, S.C., to determine whether anything needed correction, and signed the log book after the flight departed without first insuring that repairs were made properly and that the aircraft was airworthy.

Comedian Al Ritz Stricken On Stage

Las Vegas, Nev. (UPI) — Comedian Al Ritz of the famed Ritz Brothers was taken ill on stage Tuesday at a strip hotel and was taken to Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital.

Attendants said Ritz' condition was good, but declined to say what cause of the illness was.

The 59-year-old comic and his brothers, Jimmy and Harry, are veterans of 33 years in show business. They are in the final week of an engagement on the Las Vegas strip.

Martin Calls For Enlightened Policy On Trade, Tariffs

Washington — Rep. Dave Martin Tuesday called for "an enlightened trade and tariff policy" to meet the economic challenge of Europe's Common Market.

"Like it or not, we must reckon with this new and very real economic force," the Kearney Republican said.

"We cannot afford to hide our heads in the sand."

Martin said the legislation probably will not come to the floor of the House before early summer.

Wild Animals Try For Zoo

Milwaukee, Wis. (UPI)—Officials here are having trouble with wild animals trying to get into the new Milwaukee County Zoo.

Zoo Director George Speidel said Tuesday traps have been set to catch foxes who seem more numerous than usual in the wooded area where the zoo is being relocated.

Speidel said if the traps don't work, he will seek a license to shoot the foxes, who are becoming somewhat brazen.

"In fact, I live on the grounds and saw one walk right by my window," Speidel said. "I think he was on a little survey matter, because we have 3 cock pheasants and 6 Hungarian partridges we feed."

The threat of the fox may force the zoo to curtain its plans to have unusual birds with clipped wings strolling loose on the grounds this year.

Criticism Fading

Bonn, Germany (AP) — The German academic exchange service says world reaction against the German language —induced by World War II— is disappearing.

NU Alumnus Named As Stanford Research Head

An alumnus of the University of Nebraska has recently been selected as director of the Chemical Physics Division of the Stanford Research Institute at Stanford University.

He is Dr. Charles J. Cook, who is now on a year's leave of absence to conduct research at Queen's University at Belfast, Ireland.

Dr. Cook received his Bachelor of Science degree from Nebraska in 1948, his Master's in 1950, and his Ph.D in 1953.

DON'T BUY REAL ESTATE ON A "DO-IT-YOURSELF" BASIS

Buying a home for most people is the largest financial transaction of their lifetime.

Many people wouldn't consider risking the loss of their savings on their own snap judgment but they will attempt to buy or sell a piece of property on a "do-it-yourself" basis.

Ask yourself these questions:

1. Do I have the time to show my house whenever a buyer desires?
2. Do I have the training, ability, and time to properly appraise and compare values on like property?
3. Do I have the tools to efficiently and successfully merchandise and advertise my property?
4. Do I have a variety of homes to show prospects since only one out of ten buy the particular home they call us about?
5. Will I be able to get sound value for my money? Clear title to my property? Pay only the proper share of taxes?
6. Do I have a staff of trained sales people that have willing sellers or willing buyers to show my house or to find me the right house that will fit my family needs and my pocketbook?

If You Answer "No" To Anyone Of The Above Questions .....

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

The Great War Path of the Cherokee Indians was across Lookout Mountain in Tennessee.

An old barracks joke says that GI clothes come in two sizes — too small and too big.

The bola, a weapon made of weights connected by thongs, was used by primitive peoples some 400,000 years ago. The ancient hunting device is still occasionally employed by the gauchos of South America and by some Eskimos.

Composer Stephen Foster immortalized Florida's wide, winding Suwannee River without ever seeing it. He spent most of his life in Pittsburgh, Pa.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another, in this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
